showdown in the Republican party to determine "who's who"
and to determine what brand of political philosophy is to prevail in the presidential campaign of 1936 appeared inevitable today.
Events have so shaped themselves as to indicate the showdown will come next month, or early in February, when Henry P. Fletcher, now national chairman, calls a meeting of the national committee to consider the state of party affairs.At Lowest Ebb Admittedly, Republican fortunes are at the lowest ebb since the founding of the party. They have in the next congress only 25 senators, less than a quarter of the House of Representatives, and they are out of power in three-fourths of the states. Moreover, they are split as they have been since the great schism of 1912.With the support of the Western Republican-Progressives, Senator
William E. Borah of Idaho, is demanding a thorough-going reorganization, which calls for the elimination of Chairman Fletcher, and the eradication of the last trace of Cordell Hull leadership.
In the belief that the Democratic "new deal" idea of government is only a passing fancy in national political affairs, the old guard element, headed by Committee Chairman Charles D. Millis of New York, is counseling strict adherence to and no deviation from the conservative principles that have hitherto guided the party.Lines Are Drawn

Suspect In Killing Of Dr. Elliott Speer Among 50 Witnesses Called

(International News Service)
GREENFIELD, Mass., Dec. 3.—The chief suspect in the shotgun slaying of Dr. Elliott Speer, headmaster of Mt. Hermon school for boys at Northfield, last September 14, was among 50 witnesses summoned by the state today at an inquest into the baffling murder.

Arrest of the suspect was possible during the inquest at the Franklin county courthouse, for under the law, Judge Timothy M. Hayes may halt the proceedings and order an arrest.

The murder weapon has never been found and the motive for the firing of the shotgun blast through the study window of the noted educator of boys, has never been definitely established. Six theories have been brought forward—religious mania, practical joker, disgruntled boy, jealous woman, hired assassin, and angry teacher.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—A showdown in the Republican party to determine "who's who" and to determine what brand of political philosophy is to prevail in the presidential campaign of 1936 appeared inevitable today. Events have so shaped themselves as to indicate the showdown will come next month, or early in February, when Henry P. Fletcher, now national chairman, calls a meeting of the national committee to consider the state of party affairs.

At Lowest Ebb
Admittedly, Republican fortunes are at the lowest ebb since the founding of the party. They have in the next congress only 25 senators, less than a quarter of the House of Representatives, and they are out of power in three-fourths of the states. Moreover, they are split, as they have not been since the great schism of 1912.

With the support of the Western Republican-Progressives, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, is demanding a thorough-going reorganization, which calls for the elimination of Chairman Fletcher, and the eradication of the last trace of Coolidge-Hoover type leadership.

In the belief that the Democratic "new deal" idea of government is only a passing fancy in national political affairs, the old guard element, headed by Committeeman Charles D. Hilles of New York, is counselling strict adherence to and no deviation from the conservative principles that have hitherto guided the party.

The expected snow storm of Saturday or Sunday was evidently defeated. New Castle and Lawrence County had an exceptionally fine Sunday, no snow or rain.

Christmas trees will soon be making their appearance on the local markets.

Work being done on the athletic field at George Washington Junior high school will provide an exceptionally fine running track when completed. A considerable force of men is at work on the job.

Grounds at the Neshannock township school at Walmo are being graded and beautified, also further improved by a new concrete walk. The work was started a year ago, and has been resumed in the past few weeks.

Fewer autos came back through the city with deer, yesterday, than were evident a year ago. Pa Newc is informed.

One of the latest Pinchot type of road completed in this district is the one connecting Pulaski and West Middlesex. It is especially well constructed.

While Cascade street is being improved by the RWD who couldn't North Mercer street above the city line be given some attention in the way of a permanent surface?

There was quite heavy rain in the district in the past few days, water

Find Bodies Of Two Men In Railroad Yard

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—Believed to have been crushed between the top of a freight car on which they were riding and a low cross-over bridge, the bodies of two former service men were found in a railroad yard near here today.

One of the men tentatively identified as William J. Clark, about 42, (2218 Orleans street), Baltimore, and the other as Frank Santeck, 50, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Discovery of the headless body of a man on the top of the freight car when the train reached Connelville started an investigation. The man's head was found in the Demmler yards, between Port Perry and McKeesport, along with the body of the other man.

Papers of identification found in Clark's clothing included an honorable discharge from Battery E, Second Coast Artillery, in 1927. Officials at Connelville, where Santeck's body was taken, said he had been honorably discharged from the United States Navy.

City Councilmen Study Dance Bill

Council To Pass Measure Should It Meet With Approval Of Mayor
Mayne

During councilmanic meeting at the city hall today, Solicitor Robert White presented to Mayor Mayne and councilmanic colleagues the draft of an ordinance relative to dances and shows in places where beer or liquor is dispensed. The bill will be introduced after all of the councilmen have perused its contents and providing it is satisfactory to Mayor Mayne.

Under the provisions of one section the city will impose an annual license fee of $15.00 and also $1.00 for each day or night dancing is permitted.

The section gives the chief of police authority to order the city treasurer to make a refund from the latter amount but which is not to exceed 90 percent of the money paid each month for the permit.

The amount of money which would be returned under this provision would be left to the discretion of the police chief. Places in which trouble occurs will not receive a refund equal to places in which there is no trouble it is said.

Another section provides for the taxing of places which hold floor shows. They will have to pay each month one twelfth of the annual fee prescribed by ordinance for such a show.

The annual license for a vaudeville show here is $40.00 a month.

Specifically, Perkins is accused of paying his ten or a dozen workmen an average of 25 cents an hour instead of the 40-cent minimum prescribed in the wet battery code to which the York, Pa., back-yard battery manufacturer was not a signatory. Hold Father For Shooting Of Children

(International News Service)
INDIANA, Pa., Dec. 3.—Victims of bullets fired into their tiny bodies by their father, a four-months-old baby boy fought for his life today at Indiana hospital, while his 2½ year old crippled brother lay dead at the family home.

Meanwhile, the father, Heber Westover, 28, remained in the custody of authorities, who endeavored to untangle the skeins of the mysterious shooting, which, they say, the man calmly admits.

According to the report, Westover, a lumber company employee, shot his sons in the kitchen of their apartment with a .22 caliber rifle he had borrowed from his father. He is said to have fired two bullets into the abdomen of the baby as it lay in its carriage, and two into the older boy as he sat in his high chair.

The boy died at the hospital several hours after the shooting. Charles, the infant, was reported as slightly improved at the hospital, but his condition was regarded as serious.

Continuing to maintain his calm attitude, Westover, insisted that he shot the children "on the spur of the moment" because he "couldn't stand" the arguments with his 23-year-old wife, Olive. He said he had no intention of shooting either himself or his wife.

PHILLIPS AIRPORT, Bartlesville, Okla., Dec. 3.—Wiley Post landed his globe-circling airplane Winnie Mae at the Muskogee, Okla., airport following his attempt to ascend 50,000 feet into the stratosphere.

He telephoned the airport after his landing and said he would re-leave immediately and land at Bartlesville within an hour.

He said he could not tell whether he broke the stratosphere record until his barograph could be checked.

Starts Flight

Phillips Airport, Bartlesville, Okla., Dec. 3.—The globe-circling airplane Winnie Mae with its famous round-the-world pilot, Wiley Post, at the controls, roared down the runways here at 8:09 a. m. and off into space in an attempt to ascend 50,000 feet into the stratosphere.

A crowd of less than 300 persons braved a cold day to witness the take-off of the white streamlined cabin ship which hurtled into aviation's Hall of Fame when it skimmed the earth around the earth in the record time of seven days, 18 hours and 56 minutes.

The flight into the upper regions, which had been delayed by bad weather, is an official attempt to break the record of 47,352 feet established by Lieutenant Renato Donati of Italy.

Not Stunt Flight
"This is not a stunt flight," Post insisted before the take-off. "It is an official attempt to break the record and also to prove that a stock model plane can fly in the stratosphere."

Post wore a special inflated "strato-jacket" of steel and rubber with a hose attached to the hood through which the pilot will breathe oxygen.

A "super-charger" will cause the rarified air to have the same action on the motor as air at lower altitudes.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—Following two weeks of public voting, Frederick J. Waugh's painting "Tropic Seas" today was acclaimed the popular prize winner at the Carnegie International Exhibition.

The highly controversial Peter Blume work, "South of Scranton," previously awarded the first prize in the exhibit, received only 22 of the "popular" votes, compared with 1920 ballots cast for the Waugh painting.

Second honors went to Leopold Seyffert, winner of the popular prize in 1926 and 1930, for his work, "Green Pajamas."

EROE IS NAMED ON COMMITTEE

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., Dec. 3.—A drive was under way today to seat Wilson G. Sarig, veteran Berks County Democratic legislator, as speaker of the state House of representatives.

Sarig, who has served eight terms in the house, formally announced his candidacy for the speakership yesterday, following Saturday's unofficial Democratic caucus at Harrisburg during which plans for the new legislative session which opens next month were discussed.

Another caucus at the state capitol on December 22 will choose the speaker of the house which for the first time in half a century will be controlled by the Democrats.

Eroe On Committee
Harrisburg, Dec. 3.—Breaking precedent, the Democratic house caucus will be held here December 22 instead of New Year's eve, it had been decided today.

At that time, the majority party in the lower branch of the assembly will determine upon its candidate for speaker and pick persons to fill the various patronage plums which the house has at its disposal. The caucus will be held at New Year's eve as usual, as will the Republican caucus of both branches.

Decision to hold an early meeting was made Saturday at the informal gathering of Democratic members of the legislature here. After pledging support to legislation on every subject in the party's platform, the members agreed to steering committees for the both houses, as follows:

House—Reps. Wilson G. Sarig, Berks, chairman; John O'Keefe, Allegheny; Dennis L. Westrick, Cambria; Harry J. Brownfield, Fayette; W. J. Eroe, Lawrence; Eugene A. Cantu, Beaver; Harry N. Boyd, Western land; Frank W. Ruff, Berks; Herbert B. Cohen, York; Blake B. Shugart, Clearfield; Ray Furman, Green; Edgar Shrope, Schuylkill, and Anna Brancato, Philadelphia.

Senate—Senators Warren Roberts, Northampton; Herman E. Bauman, Cambria; E. J. Thompson, Centre; C. W. Sones, Lycoming and John S. Rice, Adams.

Sarig, the house steering chairman, has announced his candidacy for the speakership and is considered one of the leading aspirants at the present time.

Evidently all of the Lawrence county farmers were not offered on the Thanksgiving markets. There are still a large number in flocks around the county, Pa. News notes.

Homer Gardner, of 413 Boyles avenue, was one of the first of the New Castle hunters to bag a deer on Saturday. Mr. Gardner shot a six-point buck Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, while hunting in the vicinity of Emporium. Charles Fuch, who was with the same party, secured a four-point buck.

Down in the vicinity of Ellwood City is a little community and school house designated "North Star". Pa. News has often wondered how the name came to be applied.

Among the villages in this part of western Pennsylvania, one that is particularly attractive is Jacksonville on the Moore's Corners to Portersville road.

Salvation Army Christmas kettles have made their appearance on the streets. They are an appeal for contributions for Christmas funds for the army work.

F. W. Burdette, of Young street, was among the New Castle hunters who bagged a deer on Saturday in Warren county. Mr. Burdette brought down a prize eight point buck which weighed 130 pounds. E. R. Olsen, of Albert street, W. H. Osterling and J. E. Osterling, of Highland avenue, comprised the hunting party.

Foreign press reports cabled back here tell of alleged large-scale executions resulting from the Kirov assassination, but these have been vigorously denied. Uncle Sam To Borrow Nine Hundred Million

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Nine hundred million dollars in cash will be borrowed by Uncle Sam December 13.

Secretary Morgenthau said today that this will boost the treasury's "working cash balance" to $1,650,000,000 providing funds which will be spent for relief and other emergency purposes during the winter.

The financial operation will boost the public debt to another record high level—$28,301,000,000. The world war only pushed the debt to twenty six and a half billion including twelve billion of loans to the allied governments.

America's actual debt increase on its own war costs was thirteen billion, there having been a debt of about a billion dollars April 1, 1917. The debt at the beginning of the depression was over sixteen billion. It is contemplated that the increase will be around $15,000,000,000 since President Roosevelt estimated that by the end of the current fiscal year the public debt would be more than $31,800,000,000.

Retail Stores Business Shows Heavy Increase

America Will Spend Three Billion More In Stores Than In 1933 Is Report

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—America will spend three billions of dollars more in 1934 in retail stores, than it did in 1933 the bottom year of the depression. John Dickinson, assistant secretary of commerce figured today after comparing data for the present year with the census bureau's report of retail distribution for last year.

"It is encouraging and significant," Dickinson observed, "that beginning in April, 1933, there was a substantial increase in retail employment, and that this increase not only continued, but improved each month thereafter, without exception."

Encouraging Reports
Although the middle Atlantic states of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania lost 48 per cent, volume sales remained highest there with a turnover of $6,633,819,000 in 1933 as compared with $12,717,869,000 in 1934.

New York retail stores distributed wares worth $3,738,992,000 for the greatest retail outlet. AVOID UGLY PIMPLES
Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights; if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the bowels with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, dull complexion caused by constipation.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound, known by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with constipation and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two at bedtime for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

To Erect Marker
Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 3.—American Legionnaires who sponsored the funeral for the three little California orphans—Carlisle's babes in the woods—today planned to erect a bronze marker over their single grave in Westminster cemetery here.

The marker, imbedded in native limestone, will give the names of the fair-haired sisters, Norma, Dora and Cora, aged 12, 10 and 8 years old respectively, and a brief history of their strange death at the end of a transcontinental flight from their Roseville, Cal., home.

More than 5,000 persons made pilgrimages to the grave yesterday, the first day it had not rained since the sisters died during the night of November 21, or the morning of next day. A guard was established at the cemetery when souvenir seekers sought to tear off blossoms from floral contributions and even carry away pieces of sod around the grave.

State police intend to continue their investigation into the case in an effort to clean up the loose ends of their picture of the mysterious disappearance of the three little girls from California which ended in the self destruction of an entire family.

Berks County Man Aspirant

EROE IS NAMED ON COMMITTEE

(International News Service) READING, Pa., Dec. 3.—A drive was under way today to seat Wilson G. Sarig, veteran Berks County Democratic legislator, as speaker of the state House of representatives. Sarig, who has served eight terms in the house, formally announced his candidacy for the speakership yesterday, following Saturday's unofficial Democratic caucus at Harrisburg during which plans for the new legislative session which opens next month were discussed. Another caucus at the state capitol on December 22 will choose the speaker of the house which for the first time in half a century will be controlled by the Democrats.

Eroe On Committee

Harrisburg, Dec. 3.—Breaking precedent, the Democratic house caucus will be held here December 22 instead of New Year's eve, it had been decided today. At that time, the majority party in the lower branch of the assembly will determine upon its candidate for speaker and pick persons to fill the various patronage plums which the house has at its disposal. The caucus will be held New Year's eve as usual, as will the Republican caucus of both branches.

Decision to hold an early meeting was made Saturday at the informal gathering of Democratic members of the legislature here. After pledging support to legislation on every subject in the party's platform, the members agreed to steering committees for the two houses, as follows:

House—Reps. Wilson G. Sarig, Berks, chairman; John O'Keefe, Allegheny; Dennis L. Westrick, Cambria; Harry J. Brownfield, Fayette; W. J. Eroe, Lawrence; Eugene A. Caputo, Beaver; Harry N. Bord, Westmoreland; Frank W. Ruth, Erie; Herbert E. Cohen, York; Blake B. Shugart, Clearfield; Ray Furman, Green; Edgar Shrope, Schuylkill; and Anna Brancato, Philadelphia.

Senate—Senators Warren Roberts, Northampton; Herman E. Baumer, Cambria; E. J. Thompson, Centre; C. W. Jones, Lycoming; and John S. Rice, Adams.

Sarig, the house steering chairman, has announced his candidacy for the speakership and is considered one of the leading aspirants at the present time.

These various measures, enacted within a few hours after Kirov was killed by Leonid Vasilievich Nikolai in a corridor of the headquarters of the Soviet control commission on Saturday, bear eloquent testimony to the determination with which the U. Foreign press reports cabled back here tell of alleged large-scale executions resulting from the Kirov assassination, but these have been vigorously denied. However, the central committee's regulations certainly represent a tightening up of judicial processes and are regarded as an answer to the assassination as well as to persistent demands in the Soviet press for elimination of "class enemies."

Honor to the memory of six lodge members who died during the past year and to 277 others who have died since the lodge was founded was paid in the inspiring service which Exalted Ruler Hughes conducted.

Routine ritual known to regular lodge meetings was softened by the tender cause for which the lodge assembled yesterday, and the officers, refreshing "new memories with the dew of recollection," expressed their feelings in their voices.

Aid In Ceremony. Taking part with Mr. Hughes were Exalted Knight Bertram Davis, Exalted Knight T. E. Dukes, Edward J. Ryan, acting as esteemed lecturing knight; Secretary Jacob Cosel; Treasurer George W. Thomas, Esquire Edwin B. Connolly and John Woods, serving as chaplain.

As Secretary Cosel read aloud the names of the six Elks who passed on during the past year, Esquire Connolly answered "absent" and the lodgeroom clock, its hands paused at 11 o'clock, struck 11 times after the "absent" were spoken. Six lights in a wreath above the Elks antlers were illuminated.

The six departed members honored were W. H. Klockner, W. J. Crawford, L. B. Anderson, R. C. Rowe, C. A. Hull and James A. G. Gormley.

After the closing ceremonies had been conducted by the officers, the audience arose and sang "The Star Spangled Banner" as the lights in the room were dimmed. An American flag on which a bright floodlight was focused, fluttered as the memorial ceremony came to a close.

Sitting with Exalted Ruler Hughes and Dr. Reagle on the exalted ruler's platform during the exercises was the Rev. R. G. Roscamp, this city, former chaplain of the Elks grand lodge.

After the ceremonies in the lodge room, the Elks officers and their wives and families, took dinner in the dining room downstairs.

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., Dec. 3.—A drive was under way today to seat Wilson G. Sarig, veteran Berks County Democratic legislator, as speaker of the state House of representatives.

Sarig, who has served eight terms in the house, formally announced his candidacy for the speakership yesterday, following Saturday's unofficial Democratic caucus at Harrisburg during which plans for the new legislative session which opens next month were discussed.

Another caucus at the state capitol on December 22 will choose the speaker of the house which for the first time in half a century will be controlled by the Democrats.

Eroe On Committee
Harrisburg, Dec. 3.—Breaking precedent, the Democratic house caucus will be held here December 22 instead of New Year's eve, it had been decided today.

At that time, the majority party in the lower branch of the assembly will determine upon its candidate for speaker and pick persons to fill the various patronage plums which the house has at its disposal. The senate caucus will be held New Year's eve as usual, as will the Republican caucus of both branches.

Decision to hold an early meeting was made Saturday at the informal gathering of Democratic members of the legislature here. After pledging support to legislation on every subject in the party's platform, the members agreed to steering committees for the two houses, as follows:

House—Reps. Wilson G. Sarig, Berks, chairman; John O'Keefe, Allegheny; Dennis L. Westrick, Cambria; Harry J. Brownfield, Fayette; W. J. Eroe, Lawrence; Eugene A. Caputo, Beaver; Harry N. Boyd, Westmoreland; Frank W. Ruth, Berks; Herbert B. Cohen, York; Blake B. Shugart, Clearfield; Ray Furman, Green; Edgar Shrope, Schuylkill; and Anna Brancato, Philadelphia.

Senate—Senators Warren Roberts, Northampton; Herman E. Baumer, Cambria; E. J. Thompson, Centre; C. W. Sones, Lycoming and John S. Rice, Adams.

Sarig, the house steering chairman, has announced his candidacy for the speakership and is considered one of the leading aspirants at the present time.

being noted standing in the lowlands of the countryside and most of the streams being at a rather high stage.

Level of the water in the Pymatuning Lake is reported at the highest stage, it has ever reached, at the present time. Rains of the past few days raised the level of the lake considerably.

Approximately $150,000 in Christmas saving funds will be distributed to local folks during the week.

New Castle public schools resumed today after the Thanksgiving holiday period.

Rehearsals are being started by New Castle and Lawrence county churches and Sunday schools on the Christmas programs to be given this month.

Evidently all of the Lawrence county turkeys were not offered on the Thanksgiving markets. There are still a large number in flocks around the county, Pa. News notes.

Homer Gardner, of 413 Boyles avenue, was one of the first of the New Castle hunters to bag a deer on Saturday. Mr. Gardner shot a six-point buck Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, while hunting in the vicinity of Emporium. Charles Fuch, who was with the same party, secured a four-point buck.

Down in the vicinity of Ellwood City is a little community and school house designated "North Star". Pa. News has often wondered how the name came to be applied.

Among the villages in this part of western Pennsylvania, one that is particularly attractive is Jacksville on the Moore's Corners to Portersville road.

Salvation Army Christmas kettles have made their appearance on the streets. They are an appeal for contributions for Christmas funds for the army work.

F. W. Burdette, of Young street, was among the New Castle hunters who bagged a deer on Saturday in Warren county. Mr. Burdette brought down a prize eight point buck which weighed 130 pounds. E. R. Olsen, of Albert street, W. H. Oesterling and J. E. Oesterling, of Highland avenue, comprised the hunting party.

commissionariat of internal affairs, which includes the troops and former political police of the OGPU, were instructed to see that sentences imposed by the courts be executed without delay.

These various measures, enacted within a few hours after Kirov was killed by Leonid Vasilievich Nikolai in a corridor of the headquarters of the Soviet control commission on Saturday, bear eloquent testimony to the determination with which the U. S. S. R. is mobilizing to the task of wiping out "enemies of the state".

Foreign press reports cabled here tell of alleged large-scale executions resulting from the Kirov assassination, but these have been vigorously denied. However, the central committee's regulations certainly represent a tightening up of judicial processes and are regarded as an answer to the assassination as well as to persistent demands in the Soviet press for elimination of "class enemies".

Uncle Sam To Borrow Nine Hundred Million

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Nine hundred million dollars in cash will be borrowed by Uncle Sam December 13.

Secretary Morgenthau said today this will boost the treasury's "working cash balance" to $1,645,000,000 providing funds which will be spent for relief and other emergency purposes during the winter.

The financial operation will boost the public debt to another record high level—$28,201,000,000. The world war only pushed the debt to twenty six and a half million including twelve billion of loans to the allied governments.

America's actual debt increase on its own war costs was thirteen billion, there having been a debt of about a billion dollars April 1, 1917. The debt at the beginning of the depression was over sixteen billion. It is contemplated that the increase will be around $15,000,000,000 since present Roosevelt estimated that by the end of the current fiscal year the public debt would be more than $31,800,000,000.

Retail Stores Business Shows Heavy Increase

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—America will spend three billions of dollars more in 1935 than in 1934 in retail stores, according to a report of the Census Bureau.

The deficit on Nov. 30 was $1,432,240,000, just about double that of the same date last year.

All expenditures for the first five months of the fiscal year—which started July 1—were $2,892,632,000, as compared with $1,908,969,000 for the same period last year.

Emergency expenditures made up $1,501,965,000 for this period against $692,826,000 for the year before.

The public debt at the end of November was $27,298,896,000.

Government receipts for the five months totaled $1,460,391,000, a gain of approximately $320,000,000.

Killer At Large, Keeper Of Dead Orang-Outang Dies Of Grief

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—A vicious killer is at large in San Francisco today.

He has left death and tragic grief in his wake. Private detectives are on his trail. Police are watching for him.

Yet, if he is caught, he will face only six months in the county jail and a fine of $500!

His latest act has filled the heart of a strong man with such bitterness that he wants to turn his back on civilization and return to the solitudes of Africa.

Keeper Dies.
Last Wednesday, the keeper fed a stick of poisonous candy to Ginger, the giant Sumatran orang-outang of Fleishhacker zoo. The ape, valued at $5,000, died in the arms of its keeper.

On Thursday the keeper, John Van Bergen, died of grief and shock.

George Bistany, big game hunter and director of the zoo, tried futilely to revive the keeper. Then, shaken with rage and grief, he collapsed at his desk. He was rushed to a hospital on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Today, lying pale and exhausted in his tropical cot, the man who has laughed at death in the jungles of Africa and Asia revealed an amazing story of animal devotion and of distorted and vicious human nature.

here tomorrow from Roseville, Cal., to claim the body of Miss Pierce. Liebegott said he did not think Noakes' body would be claimed and he has not received any instructions for its disposal.

Relatives of the man who brought the three girls and then, faced by poverty and starvation, killed them before ending his own life in a murder-suicide pact, have requested that he be buried in the triangular plot that holds the "babes in the woods," at Carlisle.

To Erect Marker
Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 3.—American Legionnaires who sponsored the funerals for the three little California orphans—Carlisle's babes in the woods—marked over their single grave in Westminster cemetery here.

The marker, imbedded in native limestone, will give the names of the fair-haired sisters, Norma, DeWilla and Cardella Noakes, 12, 10 and 8 years old respectively, and a brief history of their strange death at the end of a transcontinental flight from their Roseville, Cal., home.

More than 5,000 persons made pilgrimages to the grave yesterday, the first day it had not rained since the sisters died during the night of November 21 or the morning of next day. A guard was established at the cemetery when souvenir seekers sought to tear off blossoms from floral contributions and even carry away pieces of sod around the grave.

State police intend to continue their investigation into the case in an effort to clean up the loose ends of their picture of the mad dash from California which ended in the self destruction of an entire family.

The Elks orchestra of this city played the opening and closing marches and favored with two special selections, "No Me Olvides" and "Auld Lang Syne," during the program.

Vocal music was furnished by the Elks quartet, with Arthur J. Thomas, Harry C. Urmon, Richard E. Johns and Russell Urmon as members. The quartet piano accompanist was Julius Sypher.

The quartet, at intervals, sang "One Sweet Solemn Thought" and "In the Sweet Bye-and-Bye," while a duet number, "Crucifix," was sung by Mr. Johns and Mr. Thomas.

ADDRESS FEATURES D. A. R. MEETING

Citizens in the United States can help in the war against crime in this country by cleaning out crooked lawyers, crooked judges and being careful to vote for the right laws, Attorney T. W. Dickey told Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Saturday afternoon in an address before them on the topic "The Suppression of Crime".

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Harry L. Gormley on Fairfield avenue and was well attended.

Attorney Dickey pointed out the cost of crime in the U. S. is the staggering sum of 20 billion dollars annually. There are 700,000 known criminals. He went on to show the important part newspapers play in trying to suppress crime, as they mould the thoughts and actions of citizens, in a community, unless the crime is an outstanding one. A scientific study is now being made of criminals to ascertain the causes of their downfall and remedial measures. Finger prints and signatures were shown of John Dillinger, noted bandit, who was recently slain by federal agents.

Preceding Attorney Dickey's talk, which was very interesting, as well as informative, the meeting was opened by the usual salute to the flag and the recitation of the American Creed, led by Miss Viola Wallace. After routine business was transacted, with Mrs. P. E. Sover, in the chair, Mrs. Marvin B. Dinsmore read the President General's Message.

An informal social hour was featured by the serving of dainty refreshments. The dining room table was attractively decorated with a large bowl of roses and chrysanthemums, combined with ferns, and flanked on either side with four candelsticks, holding tall tapers. Mrs. Sowersby poured and assisted hostesses with Mrs. Gormley were Mrs. Irvin A. Balph, Miss Bernice Bartlett, Miss Mary R. Clarke, Mrs. H. B. Golder, Mrs. R. H. Ramsey and Miss Margaret E. Smith.

The January 5 meeting is scheduled for the home of Mrs. J. L. Reed, 1207 North Mercer street.

ADDRESS FEATURES D. A. R. MEETING

Citizens in the United States can help in the war against crime in this country by cleaning out crooked lawyers, crooked judges and being careful to vote for the right laws, Attorney T. W. Dickey told Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Saturday afternoon, in an address before them on the topic "The Suppression of Crime".

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Harry L. Gormley on Fairfield avenue and was well attended.

Attorney Dickey pointed out the cost of crime in the U. S. is the staggering sum of 20 billion dollars annually. There are 700,000 known criminals. He went on to show the important part newspapers play in trying to suppress crime, as they mould the thoughts and actions of citizens, in a community, unless the crime is an outstanding one. A scientific study is now being made of criminals to ascertain the causes of their downfall and remedial measures. Finger prints and signatures were shown of John Dillinger, noted bandit, who was recently slain by federal agents.

Proceeding Attorney Dickey's talk, which was very interesting, as well as informative, the meeting was opened by the usual salute to the flag and the recitation of the American Creed, led by Miss Viola Wallace. After routine business was transacted, with Mrs. F. E. Seavy in the chair, Mrs. Mary B. Dinsmore read the President General's Message.

An informal social hour was featured by the serving of dainty refreshments. The dining room table was attractively decorated with a large bowl of roses and chrysanthemums, combined with ferns, and flanked on either side with four candles, holding tall tapers. Mrs. Seavy poured and assisted hostesses with Mrs. Gormley were Mrs. Irvin A. Balph, Miss Bernice Bartlett, Miss Mary R. Clarke, Mrs. H. E. Golder, Mrs. R. H. Ramsey and Miss Margaret E. Smith.

The January 5 meeting is scheduled for the home of Mrs. J. L. Reed, 1207 North Mercer street.

Annually the members of New Castle chapter 105, Order of Eastern Star, entertain friends at a party, the proceeds of which go to the Educational Loan fund, and this year Mrs. Glenn Pinkerton, Mrs. Carolyn Lindsey, Misses Martha Bigley and Gertrude Potter are on the committee of arrangements.

They have planned a party in the cathedral for Monday evening, December 10, at the close of the chapter's business meeting, when cards will be in play in the west dining room at 8:30.

Indications are that the chapter will have many guests at this time. There will be high score prizes and refreshments will be served.

ADDRESS FEATURES D. A. R. MEETING

Citizens in the United States can help in the war against crime in this country by cleaning out crooked lawyers, crooked judges and being careful to vote for the right laws, Attorney T. W. Dickey told Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Saturday afternoon in an address before them on the topic "The Suppression of Crime".

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Harry L. Gormley on Fairfield avenue and was well attended.

Attorney Dickey pointed out the cost of crime in the U. S. is the staggering sum of 20 billion dollars annually. There are 700,000 known criminals. He went on to show the important part newspapers play in trying to suppress crime, as they mould the thoughts and actions of citizens, in a community, unless the crime is an outstanding one. A scientific study is now being made of criminals to ascertain the causes of their downfall and remedial measures. Finger prints and signatures were shown of John Dillinger, noted bandit, who was recently slain by federal agents.

Preceding Attorney Dickey's talk, which was very interesting, as well as informative, the meeting was opened by the usual salute to the flag and the repetition of the American Creed, led by Miss Viola Wallace. After routine business was transacted, with Mrs. F. E. Sowersby in the chair, Mrs. Marvin B. Dinsmore read the President General's Message.

An informal social hour was featured by the serving of dainty refreshments. The dining room table was attractively decorated with a large bowl of roses and chrysanthemums, combined with ferns, and flanked on either end with four candlesticks, holding tall tapers. Mrs. Sowersby poured and assisted hostesses with Mrs. Gormley were Mrs. Irvin A. Balph, Miss Bernice Bartlett, Miss Mary R. Clarke, Mrs. H. E. Golder, Mrs. R. H. Ramsey and Miss Margaret E. Smith.

The January 5 meeting is scheduled for the home of Mrs. J. L. Reed, 1207 North Mercer street.

EDUCATIONAL PARTY PLANNED BY CHAPTER

Annually the members of New Castle chapter 105, Order of Eastern Star, entertain friends at a party, the proceeds of which go to the Educational Loan fund, and this year Mrs. Glenn Pinkerton, Mrs. Carolyn Lindsey, Misses Martha Bigley and Gertrude Potter are on the committee of arrangements.

They have planned a party in the cathedral for Monday evening, December 10, at the close of the chapter's business meeting, when cards will be in play in the west dining room at 8:30.

Indications are that the chapter will have many guests at this time. There will be high score prizes and refreshments will be served.

WELCOME "BAD" WEATHER

WEATHER in the West and Middle West makes the news columns a good deal lately. The headlines suggest why. "Rejoice As Snow Falls," reads one. "Blanket of White Means Moisture in Several States." Those are from Denver.

From Des Moines comes another: "Drizzling Rains of Great Value to Soil." Under that head one reads that agricultural statisticians and federal crop observers are "jubilant" over the rain which, they said, would go far toward replenishing depleted water supplies and refreshing the thirsty soil.

Stars falling on Alabama give radio tenors something to sing about, but are not so inspiring as snow falling in western Nebraska and in certain sections of Minnesota and North Dakota.

Snow and rain have their disagreeable features for all of us, but they are disguised blessings in the drought area these days. Fine Indian Summer weather, which prevailed widely in November, was more than welcome to city dwellers, but it did nothing out in the country to refill cisterns, raise underground water levels, protect vegetation or save orchards dying from lack of water. We can't help enjoying agreeable weather when it comes, but we'd better learn to rejoice, too, when disagreeable weather comes if it brings soaking rain and blanketing snow to regions that need them.

SHOULD BEGIN NOW

The present is an appropriate time to bring up the vital subject of Christmas shopping, a pleasant responsibility which must be fulfilled within the next three weeks if all is to go happily when the festival finally arrives.

There is unlimited experience to prove that early Christmas shopping is the course of wisdom. It is attended by practical benefits, such as stocks that have not been reduced by the onslaughts of the army of shoppers that appears later in the season. In addition, leisurely, discriminating purchasing is possible and when the necessary tasks have been accomplished early the approach of the holiday may be anticipated with a mind free from the anxieties that invariably attend delayed shopping.

New Castle's stores are now prepared for invasion. They offer all of the advantages to be found in metropolitan centers, with the additional attractions of convenience and economy. There is no sound reason for going elsewhere.

A nationwide survey conducted recently by the National Retail Drygoods Association indicated that there is in prospect the largest Christmas trade since 1931, with sales showing an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent over 1932.

If this expectation is realized an important step toward economic recovery will be accomplished. New Castle shoppers will serve their own interests by giving their share of stimulus to the forward movement.

WASTED MILLIONS IN FRANKED MAIL

One of the useful results of the controversy over the manner in which Postmaster General Farley transformed a postal deficit into a surplus by subtracting the ocean, air and free mail service costs from the expense of running his department is the discovery that millions of dollars are being wasted by the government annually through the abuse of the franking privilege.

This is not a new evil, but it has reached alarming proportions. In the beginning it seemed proper enough to give members of congress and the departments the right to conduct their official correspondence free of charge. But by degrees the original purpose has been lost sight of and now vast quantities of political and publicity matter is franked under the guise of official business.

There have been complaints about this in the past, but the abuse of the franking privilege has come to full flower under the present administration. It is unofficially estimated in Washington that the amount of free service subtracted from postal costs in order to bring about the so-called surplus amounts to about $27,000,000. What the taxpayers would like to know is how much of this is actually wasted money.

Disregarding the immunity enjoyed by congress and the departments and the dispensing of really important information to farmers and business men, what of the mass of utterly useless stuff franked through the mails every day? With the creation of the alphabetical agencies this has grown to startling enormity. Letters, circulars, documents and printed arguments are fabricated by ballyhoo experts and turned out by the ton. The disgraced taxpayer may throw them into the waste basket, but he pays for them just the same.

When congress meets, members may wonder how they are going to cut down the steadily increasing costs of the government. Here is a rich field that may be investigated with profit. The time has come to halt the franking abuse to save millions for the taxpayers.

When an idle gossip meets an idle rumor they both go to work.

It's "artistry" or a "bag of cheap tricks" depending on whether you have it or the other fellow.

If the author took ten pages to say what a modern would put in 10 words, the book is a classic.

In the recent World War, in case you've forgotten, Uncle Sam made the world safe for debt-mock-racy.

The Russians quite possibly will fight Japan some day—if they can figure out a way to get a gas mask on over whiskers.

It's going to be quite inconvenient in future wars to interrupt a battle to give Mussolini's six-year-old soldiers their cereal and orange juice on schedule.

It is noteworthy, however, that privately-owned utilities did not raise their rates during the depression. The government, which enjoys a monopoly of the mail business, boosted the price of postage stamps 50 per cent.

Three cent stamps are here to stay indefinitely, says Postmaster General Farley who feels that the average business man, the farmer, the laborer and the professional man would rather pay the extra cent than impose an additional burden upon "the taxpayer." Who'd you mean taxpayer?

THIS COMMON WATER

I HOLD a glass of water in my hand and look with awe upon it. It is so fine a jewel. I shift the glass in my hand and see that imprisoned water tremble and swing. It is so frail, it is so tough. I take a needle and place it gently upon the surface; it rests there lightly. I break the tension and it falls to the bottom of the glass. I pour a few drops of the water on the floor. They spread and glisten and in a few moments they are gone. They have risen into the air I breathe and have become a part of me, the essential lubrication of my cells and tissues. They have climbed into the heavens on invisible wings and have joined those fleecy clouds that tower above the city. And my few drops of water are a part of the great caravan of time.

This common water has had a great career. In this very water, for all I know, Leviathan plunged his mighty web, and Jonah's whale sank deep. Into this water, long ago, Achilles' mother placed her infant son; and by this water in the Nile that daughter of Pharaoh found the mewling Moses. Poor Shelley tasted this salted water upon his drowning lips, and Leander swam through this to gaze upon and touch his dearest Hero. These drops of water have gone down to the deep many a time and been a part of the sea that carried Odysseus round his little world; they bore Columbus westward and Cortes to his bloody victories.

Drawn by the sun, they have risen from the deep to be a part of the restless heavens. They were the fog through which young Lindbergh flew; they were the ice that encrusted his wings; they were the evening dew that was on the field in France where he descended. They have sung merrily in little streams and broken in thunder on rocky headlands; they have been steam in roaring geysers and in the machines of man. That flower in your buttonhole could not exist without water nor that giant tree that skirts your reverence. Endlessly recreated, this water goes its fascinating round and enchants the thirst of rich and poor, of noble and rabbit crouching golden tiger, of poisonous thistle and useful grain.

Little man, musing over this gallant water, be bold, be strong again. Your spirit, too, is profane and undoubting. As frail as water, yet as mighty, as enduring, as common and as rare. And travels as far in this strange world and rests as contentedly as these few drops in this mortal hand. In your great weariness and despair, miss a little on the miracle of water, then feel your heart beat strong again in its own breast.

FRIENDSHIP REQUIRES FREQUENT CEMENTING

A quarrel over a trivial matter has caused a break between you and a good friend.

Time goes on, and you wish he would come to you for reconciliation. But you will not propose it.

Perhaps the other fellow has the same desire, and he won't propose it.

The length of time increases, and ill-feelings grow; soon you both have become accustomed to the break and there is no longer any thought to mend it.

You have lost a good friend—and so has he, perhaps.

Good friends are not numerous.

Life is quite barren without good friends.

There are too valuable to lose thru little things that cause a drifting away.

Friendship, to be good, must be cemented frequently.

Haven't you been childish in your treatment of a friend who may have offended you but slightly?

Perhaps his own feeling of guilt keeps him from apologizing.

You have received the same feeling as a child, so you can't understand.

If you have caused offense or displeasure, you will get more out of life if you are quick to make amends.

You are a grown person—act like one.

Garbed in the uniform of power he did not seem to be One of the sixty-minute-hour That comes to you and me.

And yet I wondered when he'd doffed That coat of pomp and pride If in the night his baby coughed He walked with such a stride?

And must he hear a rasping throat So faintly as I?

Americans at a ConventionCentral Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 3. — "Why don't you write something funny again?" queries F. Mc. "You're too serious."

Well, we've just been with some people who have laughed all night long. In fact, they have roared. We should, therefore, have imbibed some of that jollity.

But we have not. We have been staying at a hotel during a convention of 30,000 men. It has been one of those conventions during which bottles are thrown out of windows and the furniture has to be nailed down.

AT NIGHT
There is no law prohibiting night noises in the United States. In fact, the more noise one makes, the funnier he is supposed to be.

We have been thinking of trying to go to sleep by 2 a. m. at least, but the liquor these gentlemen imbibe doesn't seem to get in its most effective work till after that. It is a strange thing concerning conventions—men who go to them do not seem to hold their liquor well.

Three drinks causes the average conventioneer to whoopee worse than a wild injun.

WIVES AT HOME
The majority of conventioners leave their wives at home.

Then they try to be naughty. But they make such a mess of it. Ten to one their wives are better looking.

At least, my wife and I, after observing the assortment, decided so.

SONGS
Three seidels of beer set some conventioners (past 50) to singing. But they could think of no tunes except some Christmas jingles.

They roared over that. One knew they cut the lawn in summer and fired the furnace in winter.

Yet they began hanging at doors at 2 a. m., when at home they would be tiptoeing in. At least they were letting loose!

Soon again they would be at home denouncing the criminal element and demanding stricter law enforcement.

FOOD
We know all the waiters hereabouts.

"What do these conventioners eat besides lobster?" we asked.

The response was mournful: "Steak and potatoes. They wreck these table d'hote places. Now you—ah, you, eat a little this and a little that, and it all is nothing. You are civilized."

DETECTIVE
Each night we had promised our wife to corralpin to the hotel concerning this undue noise.

Finally, she sought refuge elsewhere.

The hotel had made no effort to tame this "revenue." Where were the house detectives, anyway?

We were angry. We were packing our trunks, ready to move. The door was open a bit, for the porter was coming for our trunks.

Suddenly a man flung it wide open. We thought he was another of the drunks banging on doors.

"What do you want?" we demanded.

WELCOME "BAD" WEATHER

WEATHER in the West and Middle West makes the news columns a good deal lately. The headlines suggest why. "Rejoice As Snow Falls," reads one. "Blanket of White Means Moisture in Several States." Those are from Denver.

From Des Moines comes another: "Drizzling Rains of Great Value to Soil." Under that head one reads that agricultural statisticians and federal crop observers are "jubilant" over the rain which, they said, would go far toward replenishing depleted water supplies and refreshing the thirsty soil.

Stars falling on Alabama give radio tenors something to sing about, but are not so inspiring as snow falling in western Nebraska and in certain sections of Minnesota and North Dakota.

Snow and rain have their disagreeable features for all of us, but they are undisputed blessings in the drought area these days. Fine Indian Summer weather, which prevailed widely in November, was more than welcome to city dwellers, but it did nothing out in the country to refill cisterns, raise underground water levels, protect vegetation or save orchards dying from lack of water. We can't help enjoying agreeable weather when it comes, but we'd better learn to rejoice, too, when disagreeable weather comes if it brings soaking rain and blanketing snow to regions that need them.

SHOULD BEGIN NOW

The present, is an appropriate time to bring up the vital subject of Christmas shopping, a pleasant responsibility which must be fulfilled within the next three weeks if all is to go happily when the festival finally arrives.

There is unlimited experience to prove that early Christmas shopping is the course of wisdom. It is attended by practical benefits, such as stocks that have not been reduced by the onslaughts of the army of shoppers that appears later in the season. In addition, leisurely, discriminating purchasing is possible and when the necessary tasks have been accomplished early the approach of the holiday may be anticipated with a mind free from the anxieties that invariably attend delayed shopping.

New Castle's stores are now prepared for invasion. They offer all of the advantages to be found in metropolitan centers, with the additional attractions of convenience and economy. There is no sound reason for going elsewhere.

A nationwide survey conducted recently by the National Retail Drygoods Association indicated that there is in prospect the largest Christmas trade since 1931, with sales showing an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent over 1932.

If this expectation is realized an important step toward economic recovery will be accomplished. New Castle shoppers will serve their own interests by giving their share of stimulus to the forward movement.

WASTED MILLIONS IN FRANKED MAIL

One of the useful results of the controversy over the manner in which Postmaster General Farley transformed a postal deficit into a surplus by subtracting the ocean, air and free mail service costs from the expense of running his department is the discovery that millions of dollars are being wasted by the government annually through the abuse of the franking privilege.

This is not a new evil, but it has reached alarming proportions. In the beginning it seemed proper enough to give members of congress and the departments the right to conduct their official correspondence free of charge. But by degrees the original purpose has been lost sight of and now vast quantities of political and publicity matter is franked under the guise of official business.

There have been complaints about this in the past, but the abuse of the franking privilege has come to full flower under the present administration. It is unofficially estimated in Washington that the amount of free service subtracted from postal costs in order to bring about the so-called surplus amounts to about $27,000,000. What the taxpayers would like to know is how much of this is actually wasted money.

Disregarding the immunity enjoyed by congress and the departments and the dispensing of really important information to farmers and business men, what of the mass of utterly useless stuff franked through the mails every day? With the creation of the alphabetical agencies this has grown to startling enormity. Letters, circulars, documents and printed arguments are fabricated by ballyhoo experts and turned out by the ton. The disgusted taxpayer may throw them into the waste basket, but he pays for them just the same.

When congress meets, members may wonder how they are going to cut down the steadily increasing costs of the government. Here is a rich field that may be investigated with profit. The time has come to halt the franking abuse to save millions for the taxpayers.

When an idle gossip meets an idle rumor they both go to work.

It's "aristocracy" or a "bag of cheap tricks" depending on whether you have it or the other fellow.

If the author took ten pages to say what a modern would put in 10 words, the book is a classic.

In the recent World War, in case you've forgotten, Uncle Sam made the world safe for debt-mock-racy.

The Russians quite possibly will fight Japan some day—if they can figure out a way to get a gas mask on over whiskers.

It's going to be quite inconvenient in future wars to interrupt a battle to give Mussolini's six-year-old soldiers their cereal and orange juice on schedule.

It is noteworthy, however, that privately-owned utilities did not raise their rates during the depression. The government, which enjoys a monopoly of the mail business, boosted the price of postage stamps 50 per cent.

Three cent stamps are here to stay indefinitely, says Postmaster General Farley who feels that the average business man, the farmer, the laborer and the professional man would rather pay the extra cent than impose an additional burden upon "the taxpayer." Who d'you mean taxpayer?

THIS COMMON WATER

I HOLD a glass of water in my hand and look with awe upon it. It is so fine a jewel. I shift the glass in my hand and see that imprisoned water tremble and swing. It is so frail, it is so tough. I take a needle and place it gently upon the surface; it rests there lightly. I break the tension and it falls to the bottom of the glass. . . . I pour a few drops of the water on the floor. They spread and glisten and in a few moments they are gone. They have risen into the air I breathe and have become a part of me, the essential lubrication of my cells and tissues. They have climbed into the heavens on invisible winds and have joined those fleecy clouds that tower above the city. And my few drops of water are a part of the great caravan of time.

This common water has had a great career. In this very water, for all I know, Leviathan plunged his mighty way, and Jonah's whale sank deep. Into this water, long ago, Achilles' mother placed her infant son; and by this water in the Nile that daughter of Pharaoh found the mending reed. Poor Shelley tasted this salted water upon his drowning lips, and Leander swam through this to gaze upon and touch his dearest Hero. . . . These drops of water have gone down to the deep many a time and been a part of the sea that carried Ulysses round his little world; they bore Columbus westward and Cortes to his bloody victories.

Drawn by the sun, they have risen from the deep to be a part of the restless heavens. They were the fog through which young Lindbergh flew; they were the ice that encrusted his wings; they were the evening dew that was on the field in France where he descended.

They have sung merrily in little streams and broken in thunder on rocky headlands; they have been steam in roaring geysers and in the machines of man. That flower in your buttonhole could not exist without water, nor that giant tree that stirs your reverence. Endlessly recreated, this water goes its fascinating round and quenches the thirst of rich and poor, of amiable rabbit crouching golden tiger, of poisonous thistle and useful grain.

Little man, musing over this gallant water, be bold, be strong again! Your spirit, too, is protean and undoubting. As frail as water, yet as mighty, as enduring, as common and as rare. And travels as far in this strange water, nor that giant tree, as these few drops in this restraining glass I hold in my mortal hand. . . . In your great weariness and despair, muse awhile on the miracle of water, then feel your heart beat strong again in its own breast.

FRIENDSHIP REQUIRES FREQUENT CEMENTING

A quarrel over a trivial matter has caused a break between you and a good friend.

Time goes on, and you wish he would come to you for reconciliation.

But you will not propose it.

Perhaps the other fellow has the same desire, and he won't propose it.

The length of time increases, and ill-feeling grows; soon you both have become accustomed to the break and there is no longer any thought to mend it.

You have lost a good friend—and so has he, perhaps.

Good friends are not numerous.

Life is quite barren without good friends.

Friends are too valuable to lose through little things that cause a drifting away.

Friendship, to be good, must be cemented frequently.

Haven't you been childish in your treatment of a friend who may have offended you but slightly?

Perhaps his own feeling of guilt keeps him from apologizing.

You have known the same feeling as a child, so you can understand.

You are a grown person—act like one.

MEN ON PARADE

He was be-medalled and be-plumed And strutting in parade; Against the drab of life he loomed A man superbly made.

Garbed in the uniform of power He did not seem to be One of the sixty-minute-hour That comes to you and me.

And yet I wondered when he'd doffed That coat of pomp and pride If in the night his baby coughed He walked with such a stride?

And must he hear a rasping throat So fearfully as I Or do the medals on his coat Untroubled let him lie?

Be-plumed, be-medalled, spick and span I wonder as he goes If like the ordinary man He meets life's common woes?

MONDAY, DEC. 3

The World War Day-By-Day—Dec. 3, 1914—Russians bombarded Cracow.

Hindenburg, who was being buffeted around on the eastern front along a line that daily twisted into new zig-zags, told correspondents he had no doubt of his ultimate success. All information brought to him by spies pointed to Russia soon being "at the end of her tether."

She was beginning to lack arms and ammunition, and her soldiers "were going hungry." Even the officers were short of food. The country, too, was suffering from distress. Food was starving. That was regrettable, he said, but it was "a good thing, for one can conduct no war with sentimentality; the more brutal the conduct of war, the more charitable it really is, for the sooner it will be ended."

Brutal enough were the effects of the war on the people of Poland. For five months contending armies had swept backward and forward over their lands. Farms, villages and towns were obliterated as the country became one vast battlefield. In their first advance the German armies behaved with restraint and on their retreat there were no reports of outrages such as were attributed to them in Belgium. But they snatched the land as any army would, in the manner of Sherman sweeping to the sea, not only by destroying railways, roads, bridges and buildings, but by carrying off supplies of food and clothing.

The world heard less of the sufferings of Poland than of Belgium. Nor did Poland find such ready hands to succor her. Nowhere did Belgium suffer such starvation and frozen misery as during the winter stalked through Poland.

Moreover, in Belgium the sweep of war was swift and final, while in Poland it ebbed and flowed like succession of tidal waves.

The area and population affected in Poland were more than ten times those of Belgium. More than 7,000,000 persons were made homeless as 9,200 cities, towns and villages were destroyed. They were reduced to living in forests and in ruins, having as food only roots, bark, and decaying carcasses of horses killed in fighting. The soil was made unfit for cultivation by the effects of the battles. The mortality among children was terrible and horrifying. Elders simply prayed to die.

And this was to go on for three long years.

WELCOME "BAD" WEATHER

WEATHER in the West and Middle West makes the news columns a good deal lately. The headlines suggest why.
"Rejoice As Snow Falls," reads one. "Blanket of White Means Moisture in Several States." Those are from Denver.

From Des Moines comes another: "Drizzling Rains of Great Value to Soil." Under that head one reads that agricultural statisticians and federal crop observers are "jubilant" over the rain which, they said, would go far toward replenishing depleted water supplies and refreshing the thirsty soil.

Stars falling on Alabama give radio tenors something to sing about, but are not so inspiring as snow falling in western Nebraska and in certain sections of Minnesota and North Dakota.

Snow and rain have their disagreeable features for all of us, but they are undisguised blessings in the drought area these days.
Fine Indian Summer weather, which prevailed widely in November, was more than welcome to city dwellers, but it did not nothing out in the country to refill cisterns, raise underground water levels, protect vegetation or save orchards dying from lack of water. We can't help enjoying agreeable weather when it comes, but we'd better learn to rejoice, too, when disagreeable weather comes if it brings soaking rain and blanketing snow to regions that need them.

SHOULD BEGIN NOW

The present, is an appropriate time to bring up the vital subject of Christmas shopping, a pleasant responsibility which must be fulfilled within the next three weeks if all is to go happily when the festival finally arrives.

There is unlimited experience to prove that early Christmas shopping is the course of wisdom. It is attended by practical benefits, such as stocks that have not been reduced by the onslaughts of the army of shoppers that appears later in the season. In addition, leisurely, discriminating purchasing is possible and when the necessary tasks have been accomplished early the approach of the holiday may be anticipated with a mind free from the anxieties that invariably attend delayed shopping.

New Castle's stores are now prepared for invasion. They offer all of the advantages to be found in metropolitan centers, with the additional attractions of convenience and economy. There is no sound reason for going elsewhere.

A nationwide survey conducted recently by the National Retail Drygoods Association indicated that there is in prospect the largest Christmas trade since 1931, with sales showing an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent over 1932.

If this expectation is realized an important step toward economic recovery will be accomplished. New Castle shoppers will serve their own interests by giving their share of stimulus to the forward movement.

WASTED MILLIONS IN FRANKED MAIL

One of the useful results of the controversy over the manner in which Postmaster General Farley transformed a postal deficit into a surplus by subtracting the ocean, air and free mail service costs from the expense of running his department is the discovery that millions of dollars are being wasted by the government annually through the abuse of the franking privilege.

This is not a new evil, but it has reached alarming proportions. In the beginning it seemed proper enough to give members of congress and the departments the right to conduct their official correspondence free of charge. But by degrees the original purpose has been lost sight of and vast quantities of political and publicity matter is franked under the guise of official business.

There have been complaints about this in the past, but the abuse of the franking privilege has come to full flower under the present administration. It is unofficially estimated in Washington that the amount of free service subtracted from postal costs in order to bring about the so-called surplus amounts to about $27,000,000. What the taxpayers would like to know is how much of this is actually wasted money.

Disregarding the immunity enjoyed by congress and the departments and the dispensing of really important information to farmers and business men, what of the mass of utterly useless stuff franked through the mails every day? With the creation of the alphabetical agencies this has grown to startling enormity. Letters, circulars, documents and printed arguments are fabricated by ballyhoo experts and turned out by the ton. The disgruntled taxpayer may throw them into the waste basket, but he pays for them just the same.

When congress meets, members may wonder how they are going to cut down the steadily increasing costs of the government. Here is a rich field that may be investigated with profit. The time has come to halt the franking abuse to save millions for the taxpayers.

When an idle gossip meets an idle rumor they both go to work.
It's "artistry" or a "bag of cheap tricks" depending on whether you have it or the other fellow.

If the author took ten pages to say what a modern would put in 10 words, the book is a classic.

In the recent World War, in case you've forgotten, Uncle Sam made the world safe for debt-mock-racy.

The Russians quite possibly will fight Japan some day—if they can figure out a way to get a gas mask on over whiskers.

It's going to be quite inconvenient in future wars to interrupt a battle to give Mussolini's six-year-old soldiers their cereal and orange juice on schedule.

It is noteworthy, however, that privately-owned utilities did not raise their rates during the depression. The government, which enjoys a monopoly of the mail business, boosted the price of postage stamps 50 per cent.

Three cent stamps are here to stay indefinitely, says Postmaster General Farley who feels that the average business man, the farmer, the laborer and the professional man would rather pay the extra cent than impose an additional burden upon "the taxpayer." Who d'you mean taxpayer?

THIS COMMON WATER

I HOLD a glass of water in my hand and look with awe upon it. It is so fine a jewel. I shift the glass in my hand and see that imprisoned water tremble and swing. It is so fragile, it is so tough. I take a needle and place it gently upon the surface; it rests there lightly. I break the tension and it falls to the bottom of the glass. . . I pour a few drops of the water on the floor. They spread and glisten and in a few moments they are gone. They have risen into the air I breathe and have become a part of me, the essential lubrication of my cells and tissues. They have climbed into the heavens on invisible winds and and have joined those fleecy clouds that tower above the city. And my few drops of water are a part of the great caravan of time.

This common water has had a great career. In this very water, for all I know, Leviathan plunged his mighty way, and Jonah's whale sank deep. Into this water, long ago, Achilles' mother placed her infant son; and by this water in the Nile that daughter of Pharaoh found the mewing Moses. Poor Shelley tasted this salted water upon his drowning lips, and Leander swam through this to gaze upon and touch his dearest Hero. . . These drops of water have gone down to the deep many a time and been a part of the sea that carried Ulysses round his little world; they bore Columbus westward and Cortes to his bloody victories.

Drawn by the sun, they have risen from the deep to be a part of the restless heavens. They were the fog through which young Lindbergh flew; they were the ice that encrusted his wings; they were the evening dew that was on the field in France where he descended.

They have sung merrily in little streams and broken in thunder on rocky headlands; they have been steam in roaring geysers and in the machines of man. That flower in your buttonhole could not exist without water nor that giant tree that stirs your reverence. Endlessly recreated, this water goes its fascinating round and quenches the thirst of rich and poor, of amiable rabbit crouching golden tiger, of poisonous thistle and useful grain.

Little man, musing over this gallant water, be bold, be strong again!
Your spirit, too, is protean and un-doubting. As frail as water, yet as mighty, as enduring, as common and as rare. And travels as far in this strange world and rests as contentedly as these few drops in this restraining glass I hold in my too mortal hand. . . In your great weariness and despair, muse awhile on the miracle of water, then feel your heart beat strong again in its own breast.

FRIENDSHIP REQUIRES FRE- QUENT CEMENTING

A quarrel over a trivial matter has caused a break between you and a good friend.

Time goes on, and you wish he would come to you for reconciliation.
But you will not propose it.

Perhaps the other fellow has the same desire, and he won't propose it.
The length of time increases, and ill-feeling grows; soon you both have become accustomed to the break and there is no longer any thought to mend it.

You have lost a good friend—and so has he, perhaps.

Good friends are not numerous.
Life is quite barren without good friends.

They are too valuable to lose thru little things that cause a drifting away.

Friendship, to be good, must be cemented frequently.

Haven't you been childish in your treatment of a friend who may have offended you but slightly?

Perhaps his own feeling of guilt keeps him from apologizing.

You have known the same feeling as a child, so you can understand.
If you have caused offense or displeasure, you will get more out of life if you are quick to make amends.

You are a grown person—act like one.

MEN ON PARADE

He was be-medalled and be-plumed
And strutting in parade;
Against the drab of life he loomed
A man superbly made.

Garbed in the uniform of power
He did not seem to be
One of the sixty-minute-hour
That comes to you and me.

And yet I wondered when he'd doffed
That coat of pomp and pride
In the night his baby coughed
He walked with such a stride?

And must he hear a rasping throat
So fearfully as I?
Or do the medals on his coat
Untroubled let him lie?

Be-plumed, be-medalled, spick and span
I wonder as he goes
If like the ordinary man
He meets life's common woes?

THE POWERFUL KATRINKA HAS FOUND A WAY TO CURE HER SWEETHEART, THE DWARF, OF GOING AROUND WITHOUT HIS OVERCOAT.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:36. Sun rises

We nominate for the meanest thief the man or men who stole a half dozen turkeys belonging to a man on the Pulaski road. Such a person would rob a child's bank or grab

Good will as it has been manifest

JUST EXPLAINING
"You've heard what the last wit-

"Not at all, not at all," the polite

CLEVELAND, Dec. 3.—"Why don't you write something funny again?" queries F. Mc. "You're too serious."

Well, we've just been with some people who have laughed all night long. In fact, they have roared. We should, therefore, have imbibed some of that jollity.

But we have not. We have been staying at a hotel during a convention of 30,000 men. It has been one of those conventions during which bottles are thrown out of windows and the furniture has to be nailed down.

AT NIGHT
There is no law prohibiting night noises in the United States. In fact, the more noise one makes, the fun-nier he is supposed to be.

We have been thinking of trying to go to sleep by 2 a. m. at least, but the liquor these gentlemen imbibe doesn't seem to get in its most effective work till after that.
It is a strange thing concerning conventions—men who go to them do not seem to hold their liquor well.

Three drinks causes the average conventioner to whoopee worse than a wild injun.

Stewart Tries To Interpret Complicated Housing Mixup; Can President Clarify It?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The joint refusal of Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes and Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett, "to furnish material for a 'Roman holiday' has, indeed, pretty well spoiled the recent affair between these two important government functionaries, looking on it as a gladiatorial exhibition.

The pair's so-called explanations of the incident vastly improved it, however, as a cross-word puzzle. In fact, as a puzzle, it's almost unanswerable.

Maybe it will work itself out as time passes; at present its solution can only be guessed at uncertainly.

PURPOSE
The housing administration was created with a sufficiently plainly expressed purpose.

The theory was that the country's banks, fearful of runs, were hesitant to tie up their funds in loans to would-be builders; thus that the basic building industry couldn't get started again, due to lack of cash to finance it. The idea, then, was to enable home-owners, with first-class credit (this was specified as essential) to get money from their banks on reasonable terms, to repair and improve their premises—which generally have been badly neglected during the depression. It was the supposition that with this fillip, the building industry shortly would revive so decidedly that large-scale builders would get back into activity; soon the building trades once more would be booming.

To encourage bankers to lend the housing administration was empowered to provide bankers with governmental guarantees of a percentage of their loans as an assurance of partial liquidity, in the event of emergencies.

FEW BORROWERS

The banks, responded quite readily. Borrowers of the right sort were not so responsive. Of course, some folks will borrow whenever they can do so, but as previously remarked, it specifically was required under the housing act, that borrowers, partially guaranteed by the housing administration must have gilt-edged credit.

Now, borrowers of this class probably could have obtained bank accommodations anyway. Those who didn't do so (is it a fair surmise?) refrained from doing so because they consider this a poor time to repair their premises on borrowed money—whether borrowed before the housing administration came into existence or since it has been in existence.

Seemingly building hasn't been stagnant so much because of lack of bank accommodations as because of gilt-edged builders' disinclination to avail themselves of it.

ICKES' PROGRAM
Nevertheless, Administrator Moffett apparently thinks the housing administration has stimulated building adequately, the sum of $100,000,000 is officially mentioned as having gone into it under the administration's auspices.

Secretary Ickes doesn't refer outright to $100,000,000 as mere "chicken feed" but one might infer that this is his opinion of it, considering that he advances a plan contemplative of four billions in expenditures by the government in the construction of homes—for sale, by Uncle Sam, upon decidedly easier terms than the housing administration proposes, for repair work.

Such is the program that Ickes announced a few days ago, for submission to congress, with a recommendation for appropriate legislation, when the lawmakers meet in January.

ICKES' ANNOUNCEMENT
Ickes, in his announcement didn't especially reflect adversely upon the housing administration.

He did suggest that the prices of building materials were sky-hooted, immediately following a move in the direction of a building revival. He did say that union day wages in the building trades are "outlandish." He did hint that would-be builders naturally are unwilling to resume in the face of such conditions.

It is not surprising to hear Ickes, the radical New Dealer, accusing capital of trying to profiteer on building materials with Moffett, the Standard Oil conservative denying it, but surely it is anomalous to hear Ickes denouncing high wages and Moffett defending them.

True, Ickes says that steady work, at a moderate wage, is better than very semi-occasional work at a much higher rate. That is arguable. Even President William Green of the A. F. of L. is disposed to consider the proposition.

A Message to Boys & Girls Who Love Their Mothers
With Christmas just around the corner, it's almost time to think what you're going to give mother this year.

As a rule, the things she likes cost a lot of money—more than small folks can afford. But there's something you can get with use and will be delighted to get, and it's not really expensive.

For only 25c and two coupons from Fairview Supreme Coffee, you can get mother a beautiful enamel coffee pot, with her very own little girl on the top. The top can be had in any bright color she wants, probably to match her party dress or evening gown.

If you tried to buy this useful gift in a store it would probably cost $2.00 so you can see what a big bargain this is.

Christmas will be here before you know it, so you had better get these coupons now and send them in. Mother can get Supreme Coffee at any Fairview Store.

Stewart Tries To Interpret Complicated Housing Mixup; Can President Clarify It?

Central Press.
Washington Bureau
1900 S. Street.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The joint refusal of Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes and Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett, "to furnish material for a Roman holiday" has, indeed, pretty well spoiled the recent affair between these two important government functionaries, looking on it as a gladiatorial exhibition.

The pair's so-called explanations of the incident vastly improved it, however, as a cross-word puzzle. In fact, as a puzzle, it's almost unanswerable.

Maybe it will work itself out as time passes; at present its solution can only be guessed at uncertainly.

PURPOSE

The housing administration was created with a sufficiently plainly-expressed purpose.

The theory was that the country's banks, fearful of runs, were hesitant to tie up their funds in loans to would-be builders; thus that the basic building industry couldn't get started again, due to lack of cash to finance it. The idea, then, was, to enable home-owners, with first-class credit (this was specified as essential) to get money from their banks, on reasonable terms, to repair and improve their premises—which generally have been badly neglected during the depression. It was the supposition that with this fillip, the building industry shortly would revive so decidedly that large-scale builders would get back into activity; soon the building trades once more would be booming.

To encourage bankers to lend the housing administration was empowered to provide bankers with governmental guarantees of a percentage of their loans as an assurance of partial liquidity, in the event of emergencies.

FEW BORROWERS

The banks, responded quite readily.

Borrowers of the right sort were not so responsive. Of course, some folks will borrow whenever they can do so, but as previously remarked, it specifically was required under the housing act, that borrowers, partially guaranteed by the housing administration must have gilt-edged credit.

Now, borrowers of this class probably could have obtained bank accommodations anyway. Those who didn't do so (is it a fair surmise?) refrained from doing so because they consider this a poor time to repair their premises on borrowed money—whether borrowed before the housing administration came into existence or since it has been in existence.

Seemingly building hasn't been stagnant so much because of lack of bank accommodations as because of gilt-edged builders' disinclination to avail themselves of it.

Nevertheless, Administrator Moffett apparently thinks the housing administration has stimulated building adequately, the sum of $100,000,000 is officially mentioned as having gone into it under the administration's auspices.

Secretary Ickes doesn't refer outright to $100,000,000 as mere "chick-on-feed" but one might infer that this is his opinion of it, considering that he advances a plan contemplative of four billions in expenditures by the government in the construction of homes—for sale, by Uncle Sam, upon decidedly easier terms than the housing administration proposes, for repair work.

Such is the program that Ickes announced a few days ago, for submission to congress, with a recommendation for appropriate legislation, when the lawmakers meet in January.

ICKES' ANNOUNCEMENT

Ickes, in his announcement didn't especially reflect adversely upon the housing administration. He did suggest that the prices of building materials were sky-high, immediately following a move in the direction of a building revival. He did say that union day wages in the building trades are "outlandish." He did hint that would-be builders naturally are unwilling to resume in the face of such conditions.

It is not surprising to hear Ickes, the radical New Dealer, accusing capital of trying to profiteer on building materials with Moffett, the Standard Oil conservative denying it, but surely it is anomalous to hear Ickes denouncing high wages and Moffett defending them.

True, Ickes says that steady work, at a moderate wage, is better than very semi-occasional work at a much higher rate. That is arguable. Even President William Green of the A. F. of L. is disposed to consider the proposition.

A Message to Boys & Girls Who Love Their Mothers

With Christmas just around the corner, its almost time to think what you're going to give mother this year.

As a rule, the things she likes cost a lot of money—more than small folks can afford. But here something she'll like and will use and will be delighted to get, and it isn't really expensive.

For only 25c and two coupons from Fairlawn Supreme Coffee, you can get mother a beautiful enameled vanity case, with her very own initials cut on the top. The top can be had in any bright color she wants, probably to match her party dress or evening gown.

If you tried to buy this useful gift in a store it would probably cost $2.00 so you can see what a big bargain this is.

Many Activities For Students At Local College

Westminster Students Find Diversity Of Interests
During Career

(Special To The News.)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—Interests and hobbies of all kinds are found in the extra-curricular organizations at Westminster College, since there are 72 different activities from debating to varsity football.

It is, of course, impossible for one student to be affiliated with all 72 activities, but a number of seniors are active in 15 or more organizations. Music, dramatics, journalism, sports, debating, science, languages, religious groups, student government, social, and a host of other interests are included.

There are seven sororities and five fraternities. The women's Greek-letter groups average 24 members each, while the men's groups average 30 members each. In addition to these social organizations there are two non-fraternity and non-sorority organizations and 10 honorary fraternities and clubs.

The honorary groups are for mathematics, dramatics, journalism, debate, languages, science, general activities. Four religious groups include Y. W. and Y. M. cabinets, college Y. P. C. U. and a large college Bible class, as well as a pre-ministerial fraternity.

Varsity and class debates, dramatics, three publications, six musical organizations, five student governing bodies and numerous clubs are also included. There are nine intra-mural sports for men and nine for women, and four varsity sports teams. May pageant, W. A. A., Block W. Club, Mermaid Club, cheer leading and a number of other activities also interest students after class hours. Last year 89 per cent of all students were affiliated with one or more of the extra-curricular activities.

Special Training For Federal Men In Crime Battle

Thirty Young Men Given
Rigid Instruction In How
To Fight Gangsters

By THOMAS F. CULLEN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Thirty young men, just appointed special agents of the division of investigation, today are in the training school of the department of justice receiving instruction to fit them for service in the government's drive to stamp out crime.

They will take the field in the drive against crime in which Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis lost their lives at Barrington, Ill., last week after fatally wounding George (Baby Face) Nelson.

Foremost in the training given them is the inculcation of the tradition that the department avenges to the utmost the deaths of those who fall in the crusade against the underworld.

Rigid Training.

These men, appointed under the policy of augmenting the federal detective forces, are being educated in the department's technique in terminating the careers of such arch criminals as John Dillinger, "Pretty Boy" Floyd, "Baby Face" Nelson and Alvin Karpis. Karpis succeeded to the title of "public enemy No. 1" when Dillinger, Floyd and Nelson were killed by federal bullets.

This group, made up of law graduates, were chosen from the many hundreds of young men who have applied to Director J. Edgar Hoover for jobs in the federal round up of gangsters. He plans to appoint another group of 30 to report for service shortly after January 1.

Instructors Busy.

Hoover expects to choose applicants in classes of 30 each and send them into training until his staff reaches a peak in personnel that may exceed the roster maintained during the World war.

Continuous training of the rookies has kept Hoover's staff of instructors busy night and day for the past months turning out detectives. After drilling them in the rigid regulations, the recruits are sent to the fingerprint unit and trained as experts in that science. They are then given an intensive course in scientific crime detecting through the use of chemical analysis, ballistics, typewriting and handwriting identification.

Taught To Shoot.

GIRL SCOUTS

BY THE WAY

Girl Scouts will be interested in an amusing story told recently by Miss Emily Knaus, executive secretary of the National Federation of B. P. W.

One of these had to do with the distribution of some war posters. Girl and Boy Scouts were enlisted to distribute them, which they did in record time, assuring their superiors that the posters were "well distributed." To their horror (and probably amusement, too) said superiors discovered that the arresting red, white and blue posters had been placed on all the gravestones in the local cemetery. And they bore the inscription, "Wake up, your country needs you."

TROOP 6

The usual Saturday morning meeting of troop 6, Girl Scouts, held in the city building, was opened with lively folk dances, which put everybody in a good humor to work, some to make invitations and others to practice the play for the Court of Awards to be held December 15.

The Court of Awards will be held on that date in Trinity Episcopal church and will be preceded by a tureen dinner at which the parents and sponsors will be guests.

In an open Court of Honor, entertainers, waitresses and dishwashers were chosen and final arrangements completed. After patrol corners, a formation was held and two new scouts, Betty Markley and Gladys Brown, were inducted.

Paul Aley of Wampum, was appointed foreman of the grand jury when the jurors assembled at court this morning. There were none excused but two failed to answer to their names when called. They were Mary Maloney of Ellwood City and Mabel Vance of North Beaver township. After a charge by Judge Hildebrand the jury took up the consideration of cases presented by District Attorney Mont L. Alley and County Detective A. Sharp Leslie.

Kansas City, Mo.—Dr. A. Kaiser, 4974 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main St., of this city, has discovered a newer rupture method that is so successful hundreds have thrown their ruses away—all signs of rupture gone. Those who do not wish to undergo the knife should investigate this discovery. The doctor offers to send his inexpensive method to any ruptured sufferer for 30 days' use and make no charge if you are not pleased in that time. Special Training For Federal Men In Crime Battle

Rigid Instruction In How
To Fight Gangsters

By THOMAS F. CULLEN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Thirty young men, just appointed special agents of the division of investigation, today are in the training school of the department of justice receiving instruction to fit them for service in the government's drive to stamp out crime.

They will take the field in the drive against crime in which Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis lost their lives at Barrington, Ill., last week after fatally wounding George (Baby Face) Nelson.

Foremost in the training given them is the inculcation of the tradition that the department avenges to the utmost the deaths of those who fall in the crusade against the underworld.

Rigid Training.
These men, appointed under the policy of augmenting the federal detective forces, are being educated in the department's technique in terminating the careers of such arch criminals as John Dillinger, "Pretty Boy" Floyd, "Baby Face" Nelson and Alvin Karpis.

Karpis succeeded to the title of "public enemy No. 1" when Dillinger, Floyd and Nelson were killed by federal bullets.

This group, made up of law graduates, were chosen from the many hundreds of young men who have applied to Director J. Edgar Hoover for jobs in the federal round up of gangsters. He plans to appoint another group of 30 to report for service shortly after January 1.

Instructors Busy.
Hoover expects to choose applicants in classes of 30 each and send them into training until his staff reaches a peak in personnel that may exceed the roster maintained during the World war.

Continuous training of the rookies has kept Hoover's staff of instructors busy night and day for the past months turning out detectives. After drilling them in the rigid regulations, the recruits are sent to the fingerprint unit and trained as experts in that science. They are then given an intensive course in scientific crime detecting through the use of chemical analysis, ballistics, typewriting and handwriting identification.

Taught To Shoot.
When this classroom work is completed the embryo officers are sent to the marine barracks at Quantico, Va., where they are taught how to use firearms. This, the most important part of their instruction, includes the use of revolvers, shotguns and machine guns.

ALEY IS APPOINTED GRAND JURY FOREMAN

Paul Aley of Wampum, was appointed foreman of the grand jury when the jurors assembled at court this morning. There were none excused but two failed to answer to their names when called. They were Mary Maloney of Ellwood City and Mabel Vance of North Beaver township. In the case of Mary Maloney it is understood that she had moved from her former address and did not receive the notice sent her. After a charge by Judge Hildebrand the jury took up the consideration of cases presented by District Attorney Mont L. Aley and County Detective A. Sharp Leslie.

During the last three centuries it has come to be taken as common sense that what we see and feel around us is something entirely outside us, the nature of which is revealed by physical science, and that what is revealed to us in perception is simply this external world, truth being the correspondence between it and our interpretation of it.

Special Training For Federal Men In Crime Battle

Thirty Young Men Given Rigid Instruction In How To Fight Gangsters

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Thirty young men, just appointed special agents of the division of investigation, today are in the training school of the department of justice receiving instruction to fit them for service in the government's drive to stamp out crime.

They will take the field in the drive against crime in which Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis lost their lives at Barrington, Ill., last week after fatally wounding George (Baby Face) Nelson.

Foremost in the training given them is the inculcation of the tradition that the department averages to the utmost the deaths of those who fall in the crusade against the underworld.

Rigid Training.
These men, appointed under the policy of appointing the federal detective forces, are being educated in the department's technique in eliminating the careers of such criminals as John Dillinger, "Pretty Boy" Floyd, "Baby Face" Nelson and Alvin Karpis. Karpis succeeded to the title of "public enemy No. 1" when Dillinger, Floyd and Nelson were killed by federal bullets.

This group, made up of law graduates, were chosen from the many hundreds of young men who have applied to Director J. Edgar Hoover for jobs in the federal round up of gangsters. He plans to appoint another group of 30 to report for service shortly after January 1.

Instructors Busy.
Hoover expects to choose applicants in classes of 30 each and send them into training until his staff reaches a peak in personnel that may exceed the roster maintained during the World War.

Continuous training of the rookies has kept Hoover's staff of instructors busy night and day for the past months turning out detectives. After drilling them in the rigid regulations, the recruits are sent to the fingerprint unit and trained as experts in that science. They are then given an intensive course in scientific crime detecting through the use of chemical analysis, ballistics, typewriting and handwriting identification.

Taught To Shoot.
When this classroom work is completed the young officers are sent to the marine barracks at Quantico, Va., where they are taught how to use firearms. This, the most important part of their instruction, includes the use of revolvers, shotguns and machine guns.

Before the new agents are sent to the field they must qualify as marksmen in the use of these weapons, according to strict standards of the marine corps.

GIRL SCOUTS

BY THE WAY
Girl Scouts will be interested in an amusing story told recently by Miss Emily Kneubuhl, executive secretary of the National Federation of B. P. W.

One of these had to do with the distribution of some war posters. Girl and Boy Scouts were enlisted to distribute them, which they did in record time, assuring their superiors that the posters were "well distributed." To their horror (and probably amusement, too) said superiors discovered that the arresting red, white and blue posters had been placed on all the gravestones in the local cemetery. And they bore the inscription, "Wake up, your country needs you."

TROOP 6
The usual Saturday morning meeting of troop 6, Girl Scouts, held in the city building, was opened with lively folk dances, which put every body in a good humor to work, some to make invitations and others to practice the play for the Court of Awards to be held December 15.

The Court of Awards will be held on that date in Trinity Episcopal church and will be preceded by a thirteen dinner at which the parents and sponsors will be guests.

In an open Court of Honor, entertainers, waitresses and dishwashers were chosen and final arrangements completed. After patrol corners, a formation was held and two new recruits, Betty Markley and Gladys Brown, were initiated.

COUNCIL MEETING
The Girl Scout council will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. R. Ralph, Garfield avenue.

Pymatuning Lake Reaches Highest Stage

GREENVILLE, Pa., Dec. 3.—The Pymatuning reservoir level has reached the highest point in its history—and is rising rapidly.

On Saturday the unofficial reading was 969 feet above sea level, which is six-tenths of a foot higher than the level on May 1. Of this year when the highest mark of the year was reached before some of the water was released into the Shenango river and evaporation became a factor.

In the three hours Saturday, the rise was six one hundredths of a foot, reflecting the speed with which the present rain has filled the basin.

The flow-line of the reservoir is 1,008 feet, which many of the more optimistic have felt would be reached by next spring. With less than 12 feet to rise, it is now believed very likely that average precipitation through the winter will bring the desired result.

The last 12 feet, however, will be reached only by the impounding of more than three times as much water as is now in the reservoir. A considerable area of the basin which will be inundated when the flow-line is reached is still "high and dry" at the present water level.

The gates were first closed late in January of this year, and the fall and early winter precipitation which is now rapidly filling the basin was missed last year. This is expected to account for a much greater rise during the coming months, since more water is now contained in the reservoir than the period from January 25 to May 1 provided.

Some time ago it was estimated by observers that the 1,000-foot level might be attained by January 1, a month hence. No official forecasts are made, but present indications bear out the earlier prophecy.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. December 2, 20 arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 9, violation of traffic regulations 6, suspicion 2, soliciting alms 1, speeding 1, and drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1.

Police received a report yesterday from T. H. Miles of Sandy Lake, to the effect that he had been held up and robbed of $49.00, in South Jefferson street. The alleged robbery occurred near the Central fire station, Miles told police. However, according to police, he did not report the robbery until 24 hours after it occurred.

Willis McMullen, chief of detectives, did not fare so badly when he went into the woods in quest of deer. According to reports, he bagged a 10 point buck. McMullen is the only policeman, so far as known at this time, to bring down a buck, Saturday.

Police were quite active Saturday and Sunday. In addition to trips for prisoners they cruised in several cars to the homes of the city. On several of their calls they adjusted trouble and it was not necessary to make arrests.

Fraternal Order of Police will nominate and elect officers for 1935 tonight. Marion J. Young, police sergeant, has returned to duty having been ill several days.

"Do not carry big rolls of bills and don't put your pocketbook on a counter while shopping," said Chief of Police John F. Haven today in commenting on holiday shopping. He has made plans to have plainclothes operatives help to protect stores from shoplifters.

Need Not Worry Over War Talk

Europe Can't Fight Unless Uncle Sam Puts Up Cash And Sam's No Fool

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 3.—Current war scares coming from European countries will never lead to any serious international conflict, according to Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, minister to Bulgaria during the Hoover administration.

Speaking in this city, the Altoona publisher declared that the nations of Europe have insufficient financial resources of their own to carry on warfare and all realize that the United States never would act as banker again until their world war debts to this country are paid off. The United States, however, should continue a policy of preparedness for any emergency that may arise, he believes.

Col. Shoemaker likened Bulgaria to Pennsylvania in size and geography and said that Sofia, the capital, resembles Altoona.

Because of a vast surplus of farm products, Bulgaria had resorted to the destruction of crops to make way for new ones long before the idea was included in America's new deal, he said. Millions of bushels of wheat and great quantities of other farm products are dumped into the Danube river each year. High tariffs in neighboring countries prevent the crops from being exported, he said.

Dear Mr. Editor: We have read Mr. Underwood's letter in last Monday's News, referring to Mr. Elche's article in The News, and that Mr. Elche follows the usual tactics of all Socialists in America that is by boring from within and indirectly attacking our Social System. Rev. Coughlin broadcast over the radio "attacks" our social system in no uncertain terms, and he declares he is not a Socialist or Communist.

Arthur Brisbane said in "Today" last Tuesday the 26th "that Nov. 19, seventy-one years ago, Abraham Lincoln, stood on the Gettysburg battlefield" and expressed for the whole country its determination the government of the people, for the people and by the people should not perish from the earth. School children are always made to read that Gettysburg address; grown men and women should ask themselves to what extent that government of, or, and by the people has succeeded, and is Realityhas Lincoln's dream of government not perished from the earth, because it never really startedHow much power and influence have 121,500,000 of the country's 123,000,000 people in their government, and in deciding what is done with their money? A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "pull" a cold. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment for colds. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a preparation good for half a dozen other things as well. It is direct and internal which is what a cold, an internal infection, requires. It is also complete—it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any drugstore, 35c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and refuse a substitute.

it was ridiculous that in this land of plenty, where hogs were destroyed and we had too much wheat, cotton etc., so many people were suffering for the want of those good things. Arthur Brisbane is not a Socialist. Why should not this Social system be attacked, that condones, among other injustices, that the head of an insurance company gets a salary of $200,000 per year, whilst $190,000 out of that money would take care of 160 needy families at the great sum of $1,000 each per annum. When the President puts forward some progressive ideas for better conditions, he is criticized for "Socialistic" tendencies. Some would fust "Fascism" upon us that would muzzle the press and individuals that advocated the people's best interests. Pymatuning Lake Reaches Highest Stage

GREENVILLE, Pa., Dec. 3.—The Pymatuning reservoir level has reached the highest point in its history—and is rising rapidly.

On Saturday the unofficial reading was 996.3 feet above sea level, which is six-tenths of a foot higher than the level on May 1. of this year when the highest mark of the year was reached before some of the water was released into the Shenango river and evaporation became a factor.

In the three hours Saturday, the rise was six one hundredths of a foot, reflecting the speed with which the present rain has filled the basin.

The flow-line of the reservoir is 1,008 feet, which many of the more optimistic have felt would be reached by next spring. With less than 12 feet to rise, it is now believed very likely that average precipitation through the winter will bring the desired result.

The last 12 feet, however, will be reached only by the impounding of more than three times as much water as is now in the reservoir. A considerable area of the basin which will be inundated when the flow-line is reached is still "high and dry" at the present water level.

The gates were first closed late in January of this year, and the fall and early winter precipitation which is now rapidly filling the basin was missed last year. This is expected to account for a much greater rise during the coming months, since more water is now contained in the reservoir than the period from January 25 to May 1 provided.

Some time ago it was estimated by observers that the 1,000-foot level might be attained by January 1, a month hence. No official forecasts are made, but present indications bear out the earlier prophecy.

Police received a report yesterday from T. H. Miles of Sandy Lake, to the effect that he had been held up and robbed of $49.00, in South Jefferson street. The alleged robbery occurred near the Central fire station, Miles told police. However, according to police, he did not report the robbery until 24 hours after it occurred.

Police were quite active Saturday and Sunday. In addition to trips for prisoners they cruised in several cars to all sections of the city. On several of their calls they adjusted trouble and it was not necessary to make arrests.

The case of Betty Phillips against Henry G. Eise in which the plaintiff was awarded a verdict in a case growing out of an automobile accident on Highland avenue, will be up for argument at court this week on a motion of the defendant for a new trial. The accident occurred when Eise's car skidded on the icy street and ran up on the sidewalk where Betty Phillips was walking with several other little girls.

Notices which have been posted in the various offices at the court house prohibiting soliciting by agents and others have relieved officials of considerable annoyance. Formerly nearly everybody from the promoters of a chicken dinner to agents for road machines, considered it an "open season" so far as county officials were concerned.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor, Ben Pritchard and M. A. McClure left Saturday on a deer hunting trip, their destination being Emporium, Pa.

Need Not Worry Over War Talk

Europe Can't Fight Unless Uncle Sam Puts Up Cash And Sam's No Fool

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 3.—Current war scares coming from European countries will never lead to any serious international conflict, according to Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, minister to Bulgaria during the Hoover administration.

Speaking in this city, the Altoona publisher declared that the nations of Europe have insufficient financial resources of their own to carry on warfare and all realize that the United States never would act as banker again until their world war debts to this country are paid off.

The United States, however, should continue a policy of preparedness for any emergency that may arise, he believes.

Col. Shoemaker likened Bulgaria to Pennsylvania in size and geography and said that Sofia, the capital, resembles Altoona.

Because of a vast surplus of farm products, Bulgaria had resorted to the destruction of crops to make way for new ones long before the idea was included in America's new deal. Millions of bushels of wheat and grain quantities of other farm products are dumped into the Danube river each year. High tariffs in neighboring countries prevent the crops from being exported, he said.

Contrasting the cost of operating a car in the United States and in Bulgaria, Col. Shoemaker pointed out that gasoline is one dollar a gallon in the European country at the present time.

REPLIES TO COMMENT

Dear Mr. Editor:
We have read Mr. Underwood's letter in last Monday's News, referring to Mr. Elchel's article in The News, and that Mr. Elchel "follows the usual tactics of all Socialists in America that is by boring from within and indirectly attacking our Social System." Rev. Coughlin broadcasted over the radio "attacks" our social system in no uncertain terms, and he declares he is not a Socialist or Communist.

Arthur Brisbane said in "Today" last Tuesday the 20th "that Nov. 19, seventy-one years ago, Abraham Lincoln, stood on the Gettysburg battlefield" and expressed for the whole country its determination the government of the people, for the people and by the people should not perish from the earth. School children are always made to read that Gettysburg address; grown men and women should ask themselves to what extent that government of, or and by the people has succeeded, and is Reality? "has Lincoln's dream of government" not been really started? How much power and influence have 121,500,000 of the country's 123,000,000 people in their government, and in deciding what is done with them or their money? Do you feel you have much to say about it?

A few weeks ago Mr. Brisbane said

COLDS

Go Thru 3 Stages—and They're Far Easier Relieved in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "nail" a cold. Groves' Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment for colds. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a preparation good for half a dozen other things as well. It is direct and internal which is what a cold, an internal infection, requires. It is also complete—it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Groves' Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 35c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and refuse a substitute.

it was ridiculous that in this land of plenty, where hogs were destroyed and we had too much wheat, cotton etc., so many people were suffering for the want of those good things. Arthur Brisbane is not a Socialist. Why should not this Social system be attacked, that condones, among other injustices, that the head of an insurance company gets a salary of $200,000 per year, whilst $150,000 out of that money would take care of 100 needy families at the great sum of $1,500 each per annum. When the President puts forward some progressive ideas for better conditions, he is criticized for "Socialistic" tendencies. "Some would fust 'Fascism' upon us that would muzzle the press and individuals that advocated the people's best interests. May we continue to preach government of, by and for the people until it becomes a Reality. Yours sincerely, ARTHUR J. REES, 639 E. Washington St.

PRESIDENT AND ADVISERS DISCUSS RELIEF

Parley Is Held Down In Georgia

Relief And Financial Advisers Gather At "Little White House"

WILL SHAPE COURSE FOR NEXT CONGRESS

(International News Service) WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 3.—President Roosevelt called an economic parley of major proportions in his "Little White House" here today.

Almost every important relief aid and his outstanding financial adviser were included in the call. Some were already here, others were expected during the day.

Those participating in the conference included:

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau; Secretary of the Interior and Public Works Administrator Harold Ickes; Federal Reserve Administrator Harry Hopkins; under Secretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell; assistant Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman; and others whose names were not announced.

Relief and its new corollary, the projected federal housing program, the budget and the general legislative program which the administration will ask of the new congress were to be discussed in the meeting.

None of the officials here overnight would discuss the parley beforehand. They were relief Administrator Hopkins and Tugwell, chief of the so-called administration "brain trust."

Today's meeting was to shape the course of the administration when it swings into the new year just ahead. Mr. Roosevelt has declared that both the housing program and relief in general were in the "study period." At the same time it was pointed out that the day is fast approaching, and not far away, when these two major items must emerge into some sort of legislative suggestion.

SOME ARE PUZZLED by instantaneous, wide success of suddenly developed leaders and dictators. Mussolini, Kemal Pasha, Hitler and Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana, amaze the world by their firm grip on masses of people.

There is no puzzle or mystery. At least eighty per cent of human beings feel that nobody cares much about them, or knows what they are on earth. Suddenly a man appears who tells the inarticulate crowd that he thinks of nothing BUT them, and is THEIR MAN. Where he goes, they follow. Their minds are not complicated. Their wants, few. They want to be told that they are great, and the fact that they have never done anything has no particular meaning. They wish to believe that some mysterious formula can take the place of long, slow, patient work. And the formula is supplied.

The remote countryman was glad to see the old fashioned gentleman with velvet collar and stove pipe hat, engaged in everything "snake oil," guaranteed to cure everything. As a matter of fact, it did not cure ANYTHING. But the talk was pleasing.

IN CLEVELAND'S ZOO. Susie, Bengal tigress, is dead, and soon will be a rug, or stuffed. The Caesarian operation and a blood transfusion could not save Susie when the time came for her cubs to be born.

A lesson is there, for mothers of higher rank. Susie lived unnaturally in her cage, food brought to her, not hunted down by her; too little exercise. Had she lived in the jungle, jumping, stalking, pouncing, her cubs would have given her no trouble.

WASHINGTON says the President, in a financial imitation of Hamlet, asks himself just now: "To spend, or not to spend." If he proceeds with the full program of relief, supplying jobs and food, he must ask Congress for more billions, perhaps nine of them, nine thousand million dollars.

If Congress says yes, and the authorities foolishly decide to issue interest bearing "inflation" bonds, that will mean paying not nine billions, but eighteen billions, the original plus interest.

WHATEVER the President decides about spending, it is to be hoped that the pawnbroker crowd will not persuade him that it is necessary to pay interest, when he could just as well pay money direct, with no interest.

All the workers, contractors and others will get United States money. The government MAKES that money. Why insist on borrowing it from somebody else, paying unnecessary interest, creating a gigantic, bomb proof, government bond reservoir, in which those with money left invest their funds, instead of spending the money to develop prosperity?

It takes no seventh son of a seventh son to tell President Roosevelt that cautious men in a depression will not risk funds in industry, or payrolls, if they can hide away their money in interest bearing bond issues, and run no risk.

ONCE REPORTERS tell you, Mrs. Edythe Townsend was rich, a wit, a beauty, and a lady, who visited at the White House, and had aristocratic ancestors. They found her dead, a suicide, by gas, in a small furnished room. She was fifty-eight years old, and police said, "ill, lonely, impoverished, despondent." Those four words wipe out all past grandeur, fine ancestry, recollections of wealth.

MANCHUKUO, country from which China's Manchu dynasty originally came, country recently taken by Japan because she needed room, has rich oil deposits.

For the third time in less than six months, Great Britain and the United States protest to Japan about Manchukuo's oil, accusing Japan of monopolizing it to the detriment of Americans and Britishers, anxious to make a few oil dollars and pounds.

TO UNCLE SAM, Japan says: "You refuse to recognize Manchukuo as a separate government, or recognize Japanese rights there. You say Manchukuo is Chinese."

"Why don't you talk to China about the oil?"

The Japanese, who understand national character well, sent Great Britain an order for forty million dollars worth of goods. Japan knows what $40,000,000 can do to wipe out British anguish.

FILIPINO gentlemen, drawing up a constitution to govern the country, as soon as it gets rid of Uncle Sam and the Stars and Stripes, decide to abolish war, by constitutional fiat. They will simply say, in plain words:

"No war for the Philippine Islands EVER."

A wise resolution, it is more easily put into the constitution than put into practice. For more than ten thousand years, different Philippine islands have been fighting each other. The first job of the more civilized Philippines will be to suppress the least civilized, which can be done most conveniently by killing them. And that is war.

NO CONSTITUTION decides whether a country shall have war or not. The other country decides that. China didn't decide that. China didn't decide that. China didn't decide that. China didn't decide that.

One way traffic prevailed for two hours on the New Castle-Butler road near Weigeltown Saturday when an automobile struck a guy wire on a pole breaking the latter and causing the wires to sag with in five feet of the road. PRESIDENT AND ADVISERS DISCUSS RELIEF

Relief And Financial Advisers Gather At "Little White House"

WILL SHAPE COURSE FOR NEXT CONGRESS

(International News Service) WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 3.—President Roosevelt called an economic parley of major proportions in his "Little White House" here today.

Almost every important relief and his outstanding financial adviser were included in the call. Some were already here, others were expected during the day.

Those participating in the conference included: Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau; Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes; Federal Reserve Administrator Harry Hopkins; Secretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell; Assistant Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman, and others whose names were not announced.

Relief and its new corollary, the projected federal housing program, the budget and the general legislative program which the administration will ask of the new congress were to be discussed in the meeting. None of the officials here overnight would discuss the parley before the public. The relief administrator Hopkins and Tugwell, chief of the so-called administration "brain trust."

Today's meeting was to shape the course of the administration when it swings into the new year just ahead. Mr. Roosevelt has declared that both the housing program and relief in general were in the "study period." At the same time it was pointed out that the day is fast approaching, and not far away, when these two major items must emerge into some sort of legislative suggestion.

Today

Modern Snake Oil.
Susie Died.
F. D. R. As Hamlet.
Four Words And Death.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SOME ARE PUZZLED by instantaneous, wide success of suddenly developed leaders and dictators. Mussolini, Kemal Pasha, Hitler, and our own Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana, amaze the world by their firm grip on masses of people.

There is no puzzle or mystery. At least eighty per cent of human beings feel that nobody cares much about them, or knows what they are on earth.

Suddenly a man appears who tells the inarticulate crowd that he thinks of nothing BUT them, and is THEIR MAN. Where he goes, they follow. Their minds are not complicated. Their wants, few, they want to be told that they are great, and the fact that they have never done anything has no particular meaning. They wish to believe that some mysterious formula can take the place of long, slow, patient work. And the formula is supplied.

The remote countryman was glad to see the old fashioned gentleman with velvet collar and silver pipe hat, engaged in selling "snake oil," guaranteed to cure everything. As a matter of fact, it did not cure ANYTHING. But the talk was pleasing.

IN CLEVELAND'S ZOO, Susie, Bengal tigress, is dead, and soon will be a rug, or stuffed. The Canadian operation and a blood transfusion could not save Susie when the time came for her cubs to be born.

A lesson is there, for mothers of higher rank. Susie lived unnaturally in her cage, food brought to her, not hunted down by her; too little exercise. Had she lived in the jungle, jumping, stalking, pouncing, her cubs would have given her no trouble.

normal life. The Indian squaw would drop out of the line into the brush, near a brook, soon overtaking the migratory procession, bringing a new papoose with her. No one helped her.

WASHINGTON says the President, in a financial imitation of Hamlet, asks himself just now "To spend, or not to spend." If it proceeds with the full program of relief, supplying jobs and food, he must ask Congress for more billions, perhaps nine of them, nine thousand million dollars.

If Congress says yes, and the authorities foolishly decide to issue interest bearing "inflation" bonds, that will mean paying not nine billions, but eighteen billions, the original plus interest.

WHATEVER the President decides about spending, it is to be hoped that the pawnbroker crowd will not persuade him that it is necessary to pay interest, when he could just as well pay money direct, with no interest.

All the workers, contractors and others will get it United States money. The government MAKES that money. Why insist on borrowing it from somebody else, paying unnecessary interest, creating a gigantic bomb proof, government bond reservoir, in which those with money left invest their funds, instead of spending the money to develop prosperity?

It takes no seventh son of a seventh son to tell President Roosevelt that cautious men in a depression will not risk funds in industry, or payrolls, if they can hide away their money in interest bearing bond issues, and run no risk.

ONCE REPORTERS tell you, Mrs. Edythe Townsend was rich, a wit, a beauty, and lady, who visited at the White House and had aristocratic ancestors. They found her dead, a suicide by gas, in a small furnished room. She was fifty-eight years old, and police said, "ill-tory impoverished, despondent." Those four words wipe out all past grandeur, fine ancestry, recollections of wealth.

MANCHUKUO country from which China's Manchukuo dynasty originally came, country recently taken by Japan because she needed room, has rich oil deposits.

For the third time in less than six months, Great Britain and the United States are protesting to Japan about Manchukuo oil, accusing Japan of monopolizing it to the detriment of Americans and Britishers, anxious to make a few oil dollars and pounds.

It must amuse intelligent Japan, only recently a small, shut-in country, to see two big English-speaking nations protesting, begging for Manchukuo oil.

TO UNCLE SAM, Japan says: "You refuse to recognize Manchukuo as a separate government, or recognize Japanese rights there. You say Manchukuo is Chinese."

"Why don't you talk to China about the oil?" The Japanese, who understand national character well, sent Great Britain an order for forty million dollars worth of goods. Japan knows what $40,000,000 can do to wipe out British anguish.

FILIPINO gentlemen, drawing up a constitution to govern their country, as soon as it gets rid of Uncle Sam and the Stars and Stripes, decide to abolish war, by constitutional fiat. They will simply say, in plain words:

"No war for the Philippine Islands EVER." A wise resolution, it is more easily put into the constitution than put into practice. For more than ten thousand years, different Philippine islands have been fighting each other. The first job of the more civilized Philippines will be to suppress the least civilized, which can be done most conveniently by killing them. And that is war.

NO CONSTITUTION decides whether a country shall have war or not. The other country decides that. China didn't want war. But had it, and lost Manchukuo. War in the Philippines will depend on their meekness in saying yes to Japan when that powerful power comes along, remarking:

"You belong, naturally, to the Mikado."

Cast Huge Glass Astronomical Eye

(International News Service)

CORNING, N. Y., Dec. 3.—One of the greatest triumphs of modern science was hailed today at the Corning glass works, where scientists successfully cast the first 100 per cent perfect astronomical eye, fully a million times more powerful as a gatherer of light than the human eye.

More than 20 tons of molten glass were cooling in a 200-inch mold, in the second attempt of scientists to provide a flawless mirror for the world's largest telescope at Mount Wilson Observatory in California.

A mirror of the same size cast here last March developed flaws. Many weeks must pass before the disc cools enough to allow a check to determine whether the result is completely successful.

INCOME NEED NOT BE SO BIG

Changes in the provisions of the Federal Housing Act, effective on November 15, have been received by Administrative Chairman Marcus Feuchtwanger of the local FHA, which broadens the provisions which previously existed in some respects.

The changes in section one are changed to include life tenants of property on the same footing as owners in fee simple.

Any number of separate notes may be made for improving any number of pieces of property. However, not more than $2,000 of such credits may be expended on any single piece of property, without the prior approval of the Federal Housing Administration.

Regulations Of FHA Are Revised

Provisions Are Broadened For Prospective Borrowers Under Housing Act

INCOME NEED NOT BE SO BIG

Changes in the provisions of the Federal Housing Act, effective on November 15, have been received by Administrative Chairman, Marcus Feuchtwanger of the local FHA, which broaden the provisions which previously existed in some respects.

The makers of notes, whether husband and wife, or other members of the family, if signers, need not have an income five times as great as the annual payments, if they have an income sufficiently in prospect to satisfy the financial institution. Any number of separate notes may be made for improving any number of pieces of property. However, not more than $2,000 of such credits may be expended on any single piece of property, without the prior approval of the Federal Housing Administration.

Sees Huge Tax For Year 1936

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Increased pressure for "reckless inflation of unendurable taxation" would result in any or all of the major suggestions for enlarged federal relief, a greater public works program, including government home construction, payment of the soldiers bonus "or any one of the numerous larger social programs being urged," James A. Emery charged today.

Addressing the national industrial council on "Industry and the 74th congress" as general counsel of the national association of manufacturers, Emery stated if present estimated expenditures and receipts remain substantially constant, a billion dollars of new revenue taxation will be required to produce a balanced federal budget in 1936.

Hospital authorities said forcible feeding would be used.

INCOME NEED NOT BE SO BIG

Changes in the provisions of the Federal Housing Act, effective on November 15, have been received by Administrative Chairman Marcus Feuchtwanger of the local FHA, which broadens the provisions which previously existed in some respects.

The makers of notes, whether husband and wife, or other members of the family, if signers, need not have an income five times as great as the annual payments, if they have an income sufficiently in prospect to satisfy the financial institution. Any number of separate notes may be made for improving any number of pieces of property. However, not more than $2,000 of such credits may be expended on any single piece of property, without the prior approval of the Federal Housing Administration.

Dutch Schultz, erstwhile Public Enemy No. 1 of New York, now is gladly remaining behind bars in Albany, N. Y., jail, after surrendering to federal income tax charges in fear of his life. Schultz, last of the big-shot beer barons, is seen behind the bars while his attorneys, James T. Noonan (left) and J. Richard Davis confer. It is indicated lawyers may be questioned concerning their alleged protection of Schultz while Federal agents were seeking him. (Central Press)

Civic League Will Take Action To Court To Force Sunday Closing

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., Dec. 3.—Seeking enforcement of the state laws governing the closing of theaters on Sunday, the Civic League of Sharon may take court action to procure an order keeping the local theaters closed on Sunday, it was indicated

The action is contemplated as an aftermath of the ignoring of the law by local theater managers.
An injunction is the only course left to the league, according to its president, W. D. Gamble, superintendent of city schools, since a petition for enforcement of the municipal ordinance was tabled by the city council a month ago.

Sees Huge Tax For Year 1936

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Increased pressure for "reckless inflation of unbearable taxation" would result in any or all of the major suggestions for enlarged federal relief, a greater public works program, including government home construction, payment of the soldiers bonus for any one of the numerous larger social programs being urged, James
A. Emery charged today.

Addressing the national industrial council on "Industry and the 74th congress" as general counsel of the national association of manufacturers, Emery stated if present estimated expenditures and receipts remain substantially constant, a billion dollars of new revenue taxation will be required to produce a balanced federal budget in 1936.

strike in Poland's history began to-which are rich in vitamins. Upon what they based their objections could not be learned.

Hospital authorities said forcible feeding would be used.

Davis Walsh Picks All-American Team

International News Sports
Editor Selects First And Second All-Star Teams

Pitt Places Two Men, Hart-
wig And Ormiston, On
First Team This Year

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Sports
Editor

(Copyright, 1934, by International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—At the risk of being considered old-fashioned, the writer today is publishing the annual International News Service all-American football team for 1934 only after the close of the regular season, this decision doubtless going to show that I'm far too literal and perhaps not quite bright. It was the result of an honest misapprehension. I just didn't realize that it is possible to know who are the best players in the country before they even have a chance to prove it in climax games like the Army-Navy, Alabama-Vanderbilt and Louisiana-Tulane.

Without Apology
In any case, the team offered without apology or too lengthy an explanation, is a matter of fact, I think it is the strongest and soundest presented so far—maybe for the fact that it wasn't the soonest.

Buckler, of the Army, was never an all-American, so the fact that he spent the last two periods on the bench in his biggest game only served to confirm the belief. Borries, of the Navy, hardly had a chance in the rain and mud, but he was always just another good football player—and there are far too many of this kind. It was, in fact, largely a backfield year, with few conspicuous figures in the line.

Repetition being what it was, Borries doesn't quite get up to the third team and, to our observers, this seems fair enough. It is their impression and mine that if the Navy coaches had to make a choice between Borries and Clark, for sheer value to the team, they'd be quite unable to do it.

He doesn't, in any case, belong in a backfield with Lund, Howell and Grayson. They're the perfect trio; they do anything with a football except swallow it. As for Williams, he not only did everything else for California; he even kicked off. I'll bet, however, that with a real effort of facts so obvious, nor will I explain the choice of the two Pittsburgh guards, except to say that they seemed to be the best available. There has been much said for and about Bevan, of Minnesota, some liking him, some not. But everybody liked Hartwig and Ormiston, so they're in.

May Be Arguments
There may be some arguments, too, concerning the choice of Wendt over Larson of Minnesota, at end. The choice was made because Larson, while considered a great defensive end, was just a shade weak on passes. In the game with Robinson of Notre Dame was a remarkable center of defense, but Lester, of Texas Christian, did everything well, with Patterson being rated the best center in the Middle West, where good centers usually are a commonplace.

Very Fine Teams
Following are the official International News Service all-American football teams for the season of 1934, with appended lists of those who rate alternate positions and honorable mention.

Short Football Card For Titan Team Next Fall

Westminster May Only Play Seven Football Games, Won Three Games This Year

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—With a record of three victories, one tie and six defeats, Coach Bill Gilbane's Westminster college football team ended a hard 10-game card. Victories over Slippery Rock, Thiel and Edinboro, a tie with Grove City, and defeats at the hands of Pitt, Fordham, John Carroll, McKingum, Wayneburg and Geneva marked the season.

The Titans scored 50 points to 151 by opponents. Of the 151 points which opponents tallied, Pitt, Fordham and John Carroll, three teams out of class, scored 121. This means that seven teams in the same class as the Titans were able to tally only 30 points.

Play Seven Games.
This year's team showed up well on offense, and with 11 of the 17 let-termers back next season, and a short card with only small colleges, the Titans should have a good record in 1935. In all probability, the schedule will include only seven games, five of which will be played on the home field.

The dates of October 12 and October 26 for home games have been designated as homecoming day and day of One Home contest, respectively. The homecoming game will probably be played October 5, October 19, November 9. At the suggestion of the athletic council and college officials, the schedule will probably end on November 10 or earlier.

This year's record: 7, Slippery Rock 9; 14, John Carroll 24; 0, Fordham 57; 20, Edinboro 9; 7, Thiel 6; 0, Pitt 30; 2, Grove City 2; 0, Wayneburg 20; 0, McKingum 2; 0, Geneva 6.

Cutter Beat Rain and Slime with Timely Kick

Navy, greatest of the season's opportunist teams, proved its right to the title, in the slime and grime of Franklin Field, Philadelphia, when it took advantage of its one scoring chance in the first period of a slithering game to put the ball over the crossbars, via the talented toe of Slade Cutter, to score the lone three points of the game. It was Navy 3, Army 0, at the finish, and it was Navy's first win over Army in thirteen years. And the 80,000 fans in the stands, all must have given a thought to the memory of old "3-0" Dalton, who made a specialty of winning for Navy by that score in the first decade of the current century.

Spud Lewis, former assistant to Dick Hanley, has developed one of the strongest lines on the Pacific coast at the University of San Francisco. Ray Buivid, sensational sophomore back of Marquette, was so troubled by interviewers the first of the season that he appealed to Line Coach Taylor for advice. "Tell 'em you're a Macedonian and a descendant of Alexander the Great," suggested Taylor. Buivid did so and the writer felt for it, so the story quickly spread that a Marquette player was a direct descendant of Alexander. Four of Dizzy Dean's seven defeats this season were administered by the Chicago Cubs. When the Minnesota football team is on a trip Pug Lund is the most popular player on the squad. He doesn't eat dessert so all the other Gophers wait until Pug is seated and then there is a scramble for the seat next to his.

According to Coach Tuss McLaughry of Brown university, something will have to be done to counteract the highly specialized defense of football teams if the colleges are to maintain public interest. Ben Chasman of the Yanks is credited with one of the longest singles ever hit at Fenway park, Boston, when he hit the ball high up on the left center wall at the 379-foot mark. The presence of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig on the bases prevented him from making a double. Fred Perry, world's tennis champion, has some 60 tennis trophies, including spears and shields from Africa. Outfielder Ducky Holmes threw out four men at the plate in one game while with the White Sox in 1903. Babe Ruth thinks Lou Gehrig would be better off if he didn't have the consecutive-game record responsibility. The Bambino believes it will shorten Lou's career. He thinks Everett Soot knocked about five years off his natural major league days by his consecutive-game performance.

Wee Willie Keeler went to bat 700 consecutive times (1895-96-97) without striking out. There are no 200 pounders on Princeton's eleven, and only six men on the entire squad weigh as much as 190. Harry Kipke, Michigan coach, says that the first hundred seconds of any football game are always the hardest. Sam Perry of Birmingham, Ala., is the outstanding youngster playing golf today, according to Gene Sarazen. W. Flager, Kansas City golfer, had nine 4's in a row, while playing the Swope Park course there. Hughie Critz, Giant second baseman, lost his throwing arm over night and a year later it returned just as suddenly as it left. Eddie Forbes, veteran New York boxing referee, once officiated in 35 bouts in one night at the Crescent Athletic club. Gabby Street is the ninth manager the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league has had since the club was formed in 1926.

During the National Hockey season (1928-29), George Hainsworth permitted only 43 goals to be scored against him in 44 games. It is said that Babe Ruth once tore up $600 in checks while cleaning out his locker. Will Harridge, president of the American League, doesn't smoke but he never refuses a request for a cigar. John W. Thompson of Galesburg, Ill., took his daughter to a bowling alley to show her what the game was all about. Following instructions, Miss Thompson rolled 202, 204 and 211 for a 617 series. Max Beer reads Emily Post—he says it's great stuff. It is claimed that the Brooklyn Dodgers were the heaviest and hottest suits in the majors last season. When Gene Tunney vacated his throne he left a much better record than most people suspected. He was in 63 professional fights, won 35 of them by knockouts, 17 by decision, 14 were no-decision affairs, one was declared no-contest and he lost but one decision. The late Harry Greb, Pittsburgh Windmill, was the only fighter to defeat Gene in his professional career.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Indications point to a large deer kill this season, first day reports having stated that 160 were killed in Venango county. Clarion county's kill was below par and about 175 were killed in Forest county. There was a rush by hunters to Warren county but no reports of the Saturday kill there have been received.

Almost 20,000 turned out to see the charity football game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the College All-Stars, at Pittsburgh yesterday. The first game according to Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., will start at 8 o'clock.

The league will play three games every Monday night. The church league plays on Fridays. The Sunday school league is composed of all of the younger boys in the various churches who desire to play basketball and were not big enough for the church league rosters.

The league idea is going over with a "bang" in New Castle. There is considerable enthusiasm for the venture and some fast teams have been organized.

The following games will be played tonight in the district named: Mahoning Presbyterians vs Highland U. P. Third U. P. vs First Christians. St. Johns vs St. Michaels.

Bill Shepherd, halfback of undefeated Western Maryland, leads the gridirers in individual scoring honors, having scored 133 points this season. Strutt, of Duquesne, trails Shepherd by 25 points.

Mickey Walker and Paul Pirrone will meet in a return bout at Philadelphia tonight and Maxie Rosenbloom will box Al Gainer in New York. It will be Maxie's first return to the ring since he was de-throned as light-heavyweight champion.

Titans Have Percentage Of .385 On Grid In 10 Years

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—Over-emphasis has never been charged to Westminster college athletics teams, but the Titans, with a modest athletic program, have maintained a percentage of .385 in football during the past ten years, a survey shows. During this time Titan grid teams have won 28 games, tied four and lost 51.

The two best seasons since 1925 have been the 1930 and 1932 cards. In 1930, with Dike Beede as head coach, Westminster won four games and lost five. In 1932, with Lawther as head coach, the Titans won four and lost six. This year, with Bill Gilbane as mentor, the Titans won three, tied one and lost six.

Scoring of Titan grid teams in 10 seasons has showed 82 touchdowns, 33 points after touchdowns, three safeties and one field goal for a total of 533 points, or an average of 53 points each season. This year's team scored 50 points to 151 by opponents, but 121 of these points were tallied against the Titans by Fordham, Pitt and John Carroll, three teams away out of class.

Since 1925, Westminster grid teams have held opponents scoreless on 23 occasions, while the Titans have been held scoreless on 36 occasions. The largest scores which the Titans have made have been: 43-3 over Buffalo, 1927; 38-0 over Buffalo, 1926; 25-0 over Slippery Rock, 1930; 21-0 over Geneva, 1928, and 20-0 over Edinboro, 1934.

Largest scores which opponents have scored against Westminster are: 88-0, Pitt, 1926; 57-0, Fordham, 1934; 43-0, Allegheny, 1925; 42-0, Fordham, 1929; 39-0, Allegheny, 1931, and 35-0, Wash-Jeff, 1930.

The season just closed, showing three victories, a tie and six defeats is somewhat better than the 10-year average which is: 2.8 victories, 5.1 defeats and 0.04 ties.

High Floormen To Open Season With Braddock

Games with several other high school teams in this district are pending at the present time. Coach Phil Bredenbaugh will not take charge of the basketball team until after the football season is officially ended.

The following basketball players now on the football team and who will report in a week or two are: Dallas Mumford, captain, Browne Ostrosky, Eddie Ostrosky, Wilbur Stritz, Joe Wlosky, Charles Fleming, Harry Toscano, Dom DeCaprio, and Robert Brest.

Pirates Defeat College Stars

Pirate Pro Football Team Wins, 20 to 7, In Game At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—Those who claim a good professional team is better than a good college football squad had their arguments strengthened today through the 20-7 defeat administered to a band of all-star local college players by the Pittsburgh Pirates in a charity game.

Long forward passes by the boys who play for the weekly pay checks paved the way for the first two counters of the victors. A short one from the five-yard stripe sent Muggsy Skladany across the goal line with the leather under his arms. That was in the first period.

In the second, Warren Heller cut through his own right tackle from the five-yard line for the second tally which was followed by Mose Kelsch's trotting into the game to kick the conversion.

In the third quarter, Pug Raddo sent a 10-yard heave into the arms of Heller who swept across the line. This climaxed a drive of 74 yards. Kelsch again converted.

Art Strutt, the nation's second high-scoring back, of Duquesne, moved through tackle in the final quarter to score the All-Stars lone goal and Joe Mihm place-kicked the point.

The official paid attendance was 18,531.

McCaslin, Broos, McMullen Get Buck

Reports from the forests where hunters are seeking deer are starting to trek back to Lawrence county and some of the hunters who fared Saturday have returned. In Venango county the kill the first day resulted in 160 being killed, according to reports from Franklin. Willis McMullen, Scott McCaslin and George Broos, Jr., are three local men who returned Saturday night with deer. McCaslin got his deer at 8:30 a. m. Saturday.

Handball Players Plan Tournament

Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the "Y" today announced that all twelve handball players would meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening for discussion of a tourney to be held here in a few weeks. There are quite a number of handball players in New Castle and a tourney will be a fine idea.

International News Sports
Editor Selects First And Second All-Star Teams

Pitt Places Two Men, Hart-
wig And Ormiston, On
First Team This Year

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—At the risk of being considered old-fashioned, the writer today is publishing the annual International News Service All-American football team for 1934 after the close of the regular season, this decision doubtless going to show that I'm far too literal and perhaps not quite bright. It was all the result of an honest misunderstanding. I just didn't realize that it is possible to know who are the best players in the country before they even have a chance to prove it in a game.

Without Apology
In any case, the team is offered without apology or too lengthy an explanation. As a matter of fact, I think it is the strongest and soundest presented so far—maybe for the fact that it wasn't the season's.

Buckley, of the Army, was never an all-American, so the fact that he spent the last two periods on the bench in his biggest game only served to confirm the belief. Borries, of the Navy, hardly had a chance in the rain and mud, but he was always just another good football player—and there are far too many of this kind. It was, in fact, largely a backfield year, with few conspicuous figures in the line.

The competition being what it was, Borries doesn't quite get to the third team and, to our observers, this seems fair enough. It is their impression and mine that if the Navy coaches had to make a choice between Borries and Clark, for sheer value to the team, they'd be quite unable to do it.

He doesn't, in any case, belong in a backfield with Lund, Howell and Grayson. They're the perfect trio; they do anything with a football except swallow it. As for Williams, he not only did everything else for California; he even kicked off. I'll not, however, bore you with a recital of facts so obvious, nor will I explain the choice of the two Pittsburgh guards, except to say that they seemed to be the best available. There has been much said for and about Bryan of Minnesota, but everybody liked Hartwig and Ormiston, so they're in.

May Be Arguments
There may be some arguments, too, concerning the choice of Wendt of Larson of Minnesota, at end. The choice was made because Larson, while considered a great defensive end, was just a shade weak on passes. In the same way Robinson of Notre Dame was a remarkable center of defense, but Lester, of Texas Christian, did everything well, with Patterson being rated the best center in the Middle West, where good centers usually are a commonplace.

That's why Huson of Alabama looked so good. They say he's the best end the South has seen in 10 years, which is praise without stint. The South has been overrun with tremendous ends during the current generation.

Very Fine Teams
Following are the official International News Service All-American football teams for the season of 1934, with appended lists of those who rate alternate positions and honorable mention.

Short Football Card For Titan Team Next Fall

Westminster May Only Play
Seven Football Games, Won Three Games
This Year

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—With a record of three victories, one tie and six defeats, Coach Bill Gilbane's Westminster college football team ended a hard 10-game card. Victories over Slippery Rock, Thiel and Edinboro; a tie with Grove City, and defeats at the hands of Pitt, Fordham, John Carroll, Muskingum, Wayneburg and Geneva marked the season.

The Titans scored 50 points to 151 by opponents. Of the 151 points which opponents tallied, Pitt, Fordham and John Carroll, three teams out of class, scored 121. This means that seven teams in the same class as the Titans were able to tally only 30 points.

Play Seven Games.
This year's team showed up well on offense, and with 11 of the 17 let-termin back next season and a shorter card with only small colleges, the Titans should have a good record in 1935. In all probability, the schedule will include only seven games, five of which will be played on the home field.

The dates of October 12 and October 26 for home games have been designated as homecoming days and lead's day. Other home contests will probably be played October 5, October 19, November 9. At the suggestion of the athletic council and college officials, the schedule will probably end on November 16 or earlier.

This year's record: 7, Slippery Rock 0; 14, John Carroll 34; 0, Fordham 57; 20, Edinboro 0; 7, Thiel 6; Pitt 30; 2, Grove City 2; 0, Wayneburg 20; 0, Muskingum 2; 0, Geneva 6.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Indications point to a large deer kill this season, first day reports having stated that 160 were killed in Venango county. Clarion county's kill was below par and about 175 were killed in Forest county. There was a rush by hunters to Warren county but no reports on the Saturday kill there have been received.

Almost 20,000 turned out to see the charity football game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the College All-Stars, at Pittsburgh yesterday. The Pirates won, 20 to 7. The game was played for the benefit of the Vincentian Center fund of the St. Vincent DePaul society.

Chicago Bears head the western division with 13 victories and no defeats and New York leads the eastern division with eight wins and five defeats in the National Professional Football League, according to figures released after yesterday's games.

William R. Shuler, of El Monte, Cal., has been elected captain of the Army football team for the 1935 season. He succeeds Joseph C. Stancock. Shuler, a third string tackle a year ago, was shifted to end this year and is accredited one of the best wingmen in eastern football.

Bill Shepherd, halfback of undefeated Western Maryland, leads the gridirrs in individual scoring honors, having scored 133 points this season. Strutt, of Duquesne, trails Shepherd by 25 points.

Mickey Walker and Paul Pirrone will meet in a return bout at Philadelphia tonight and Maxie Rosenbloom will box Al Gainer in New York. It will be Maxie's first return to the ring since he was de-throned as light-heavyweight champion.

Pre-Season Floor Card For Titans

Number Of Practice Basketball Games Arranged For Westminsterites

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—A number of pre-season practice games for the Westminster college basketball team have been approved by the Athletic Council. In addition to the benefit game played in Sharon last Friday night with the Willies, the Titans will play the Akron Goodyears at Akron; Willies, at McKeesport; Buhi Club at Sharon; Co. D. at Butler; Youngstown Collegians at Youngstown, and possibly the Third Lutheran church team of Springfield, O.

The contests are to get the Titan players ready for the hard three-game trip in New York City, Dec. 28, 29 and 31, during which time John Marshall, St. Johns and City College will be played. The first game on the regular schedule is with Wittenberg College on the home floor Dec. 17.

Sacred Hearts Arrange Games

Sacred Hearts basketball team of the New Castle church league today started to arrange a fine schedule of independent floor games. Games are desired with all first class independent teams in the city.

The Hearts are booked for several out of town attractions. The Hearts will be equipped this year with new uniforms. Games can be arranged by calling 4151-M after 8 p. m. or write to Rocco P. Viggiano, 503 South Jefferson street, New Castle, Pa.

Marco Polo, the famous Venetian traveler through Asia more than 600 years ago, tells of two Chinese cities, near each other, named "Earth" and "Heaven," names they received because they were such noble cities.

Titans Have Percentage Of .385 On Grid In 10 Years

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—Over-emphasis has never been charged to Westminster college athletic teams, but the Titans, with a modest athletic program, have maintained a percentage of .385 in football during the past ten years, a survey shows. During this time Titan grid teams have won 28 games, tied four and lost 51.

The two best seasons since 1925 have been the 1930 and 1932 cards. In 1930, with Dike Beede as head coach, Westminster won four games and lost five. In 1932, with Lawther as head coach, the Titans won four and lost six. This year, with Bill Gilbane as mentor, the Titans won three, tied one and lost six.

Scoring of Titan grid teams in 10 seasons has showed 82 touchdowns, 32 points after touchdown, three safeties and one field goal for a total of 533 points, or an average of 53 points each season. This year's team scored 50 points to 151 by opponents, but 121 of these points were tallied against the Titans by Fordham, Pitt and John Carroll, three teams away out of class.

Since 1925, Westminster grid teams have held opponents scoreless on 23 occasions, while the Titans have been held scoreless on 36 occasions. The largest scores which the Titans have made have been: 43-3 over Buffalo, 1927; 38-0 over Buffalo, 1926; 25-0 over Slippery Rock, 1930; 21-0 over Geneva, 1929, and 20-0 over Edinboro, 1934.

Largest scores which opponents have scored against Westminster are: 88-0, Pitt, 1926; 57-0, Fordham, 1934; 43-0, Allegheny, 1925; 43-0, Fordham, 1929; 39-0, Allegheny, 1931, and 35-0, Wash-Jeff, 1930.

The season just closed, showing three victories, a tie and six defeats is somewhat better than the 10-year average which is: 2.8 victories, 5.1 defeats and 0.04 ties.

High Floormen To Open Season With Braddock

New Castle High Basketball

dock On Dec. 18

New Castle high school basketball team will open the 1934-35 floor campaign on the night of December 18, by traveling to Braddock, Pa. for a game with the championship team coached by Ham Hudson.

Games with several other high school teams in this district are pending at the present time. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will not take charge of the basketball team until after the football season is officially ended.

The following basketball players now on the football team and who will report in a week or two are: Dallas Mumford, captain Brownie Ostrosky, Eddie Ostrosky, Wilbur Stritz, Joe Wisosky, Charles Fleming, Harry Toscano, Dom DeCaprio, and Robert Brest.

Pirates Defeat College Stars

Pirate Pro Football Team Wins, 20 to 7, In Game
At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—Those who claim a good professional team is better than a good college football squad had their arguments strengthened today through the 20-7 defeat administered to a band of all-star local collegians by the Pittsburgh Pirates in a charity game.

Long forward passes by the boys who play for the weekly pay checks paved the way for the first two counters of the victors. A short one from the five-yard stripe sent Muggsy Skladany across the goal line with the leather under his arms. That was in the first period. In the second, Warren Heller cut through his own right tackle from the five-yard line for the second tally which was followed by Mose Kelsch's trotting into the game to kick the conversion.

In the third quarter, Pug Raddo sent a 10-yard heave into the arms of Heller who swept across the line. This climaxed a drive of 74 yards. Kelsch again converted.

Art Strutt, the nation's second high-scoring back, of Duquesne, moved through tackle in the final quarter to score the All-Stars lone goal and Joe Mihm place-kicked the point.

The official paid attendance was 18,531.

McCaslin, Broos.
McMullen Get Buck

Reports from the forests where hunters are seeking deer are starting to trek back to Lawrence county and some of the hunters who fared Saturday have returned. In Venango county the kill the first day resulted in 160 being killed, according to reports from Franklin. Willis McMullen, Scott McMullen and George Broos, Jr. are three local men who returned Saturday night with deer. McCaslin got his deer at 8:30 a. m. Saturday.

Stock Market
Is ReactionaryRecent Extended Advance
Brings Steady Profit-taking Into Leading Issues

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The stock market was reactionary today as the recent advance brought steady profit-taking into leading issues.

This was most pronounced in steel, motors, farm shares and industrials. Building shares were likewise lower.

U. S. Steel started fractionally lower and marked time thereafter. Its action was duplicated by other such leaders as Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Can, DuPont and Johns Manville.

Rails presented a mixed picture. N. Y. Central was under some pressure but Pennsylvania and Acheson were firm. Utilities showed a somewhat better demand with Consolidated Gas higher most of the time.

U. G. I. was taken in volume. American Telephone was backward.

Tobacco stocks ran into profit-taking but held around their previous close. Liquor stocks suffered fractional losses.

A number of low-priced shares like Coty and Affiliated Products were active and strong while the rest of the list marked time.

Grains turned in another strong performance, corn hitting new highs.

OUR YESTERDAYS
When the Dashing Lola Montez
Was the Sensation of Europe

King Ludwig I. and two views of Lola Montez.

GOSSIPS IN the royal court circles of Europe were kept busy about the middle of the nineteenth century by following the escapades of the dashing Lola Montez, a beautiful adventuress who appeared in several of the continental capitals as a danseuse. Attracting considerable notoriety wherever she danced, Lola won the favor of King Ludwig of Bavaria and became his mistress. Making her the Countess of Landsfeld, the king permitted Lola to have considerable influence in the government until an insurrection in 1848 drove the monarch from his throne. Lola, who was born in Ireland as Maria Delores Eliza Rosanna Gilhebert, later came to the United States where she appeared in King Ludwig of Bavaria and became his mistress.

STOCKS

Stock Market
Is ReactionaryRecent Extended Advance
Brings Steady Profit-
taking Into Leading Issues(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The stock market was reactionary today as the recent advance brought steady profit-taking into leading issues.

This was most pronounced in steel, motors, farm shares and industrials. Building shares were likewise lower.

U. S. Steel started fractionally lower and marked time thereafter. Its action was duplicated by other such leaders as Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Can, DuPont and Johns Manville.

Ralls presented a mixed picture. N. Y. Central was under some pressure but Pennsylvania and Atchafalaya were firm. Utilities showed a somewhat better demand with Consolidated Gas higher most of the time. U. G. I. was taken in volume. American Telephone was backward.

Tobacco stocks ran into profit-taking but held around their previous close. Liquor stocks suffered fractional losses.

A number of low-priced shares like Coty and Affiliated Products were active and strong while the rest of the list marked time.

The bond market followed the pattern of stocks, with prices giving way slightly to profit-taking. Government issues made little response to the details of the Dec. 15 financing.

Grains turned in another strong performance, corn hitting new highs.

Mine Rescue Headquarters To Be Opened

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—Focusing the mine safety service of the country in Pittsburgh, new headquarters for the nation's mine rescue cars are to be opened here this week, it was announced today.

The headquarters, located in the U. S. Bureau of Mines building, were constructed at a cost of $100,000. A new car barn will house the government's rescue trains, while the upper floor will be devoted to a laboratory and supply room.

Six of the 10 rescue cars now in operation are to be housed in the new barn. Four emergency cars will be kept in readiness for any major mine disaster.

According to J. J. Forbes, supervising engineer of the bureau, this work is largely responsible for lowering the fatal accident rate by 50 per cent in mines since 1910.

Last year only one major mine disaster was reported, with a loss of seven lives. During the current year there have been two major disasters with 22 fatalities. In Pennsylvania, but one major mine catastrophe has occurred in the last six years.

In spite of the decrease in mine accidents, the four emergency cars will be constantly prepared with ladders, chemicals, oxygen inhalers, fire extinguishers, emergency telephone reels and all rescue apparatus. They will supplement the fleet of rescue trucks maintained by all sub-stations of the bureau.

WORLD WAR VETS TO HAVE MEETING

World war veterans of Lawrence county will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the city council chambers. All veterans are requested to attend this meeting.

Announcement is made by Joe Mesall, commander of the local organization, that the post is in no way connected with the Acadian Brotherhood or society. The local organization has no branches and is not connected with any other organization, he states.

Farmers Say State May Grow All Its Own Christmas Trees

Forests And Waters Department Begins Movement For Planting Of Spruce

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—Farmers in Lehigh, Northampton, Carbon, and Monroe counties believe that Pennsylvania may soon be growing all its own Christmas trees. They say that Norway and white spruce trees will grow on soil unsuitable for farming and can be raised to provide successive crops year after year.

The state department of forests and waters has started a movement to encourage the growing of such trees on a large scale in the state.

Approximately 500 carloads of spruce trees are imported into Pennsylvania each year from Canada and New England for Christmas decorations, according to one county farm agent, who says that these trees can be grown in virtually all parts of the state.

Christmas trees, from six to nine feet tall, can be grown most satisfactorily on moist and fairly fertile lands, and will grow fastest if cultivated the first few years. Trees planted four by four feet apart will have sufficient space to develop in their natural form. In eight years, these spruce trees will be from five to eight feet in height, the farm agent points out in giving directions.

Department instructions suggest that if 250 trees an acre are cut each year, and these open spaces are again planted the next spring, it should be possible to remove that number of trees from the planted area each year. These Christmas trees will be worth from 25 to 50 cents each in adjacent communities.

Son Of Judge Held For Murder

(International News Service)
TULSA, Okla., Dec. 3.—Phil Kemmerer, 19-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kemmerer and confessed slayer of John F.

Correll, Jr., 23, was to be arraigned on a murder charge here today.

Police rushed to complete their case against the youth which they said included plans of Kennamer and Correll to perpetrate kidnappings, extortions and holdups to obtain some "easy money."

In his confession Kennamer said he shot Correll, son of a wealthy Tulsa physician, in self-defense, police said.

No Seasonal Slack Noted

ST. PAUL, Dec. 3.—There may be a seasonal slack in some industries at this time of year, but in northern Minnesota there is great activity—harvesting Christmas trees.

More trees are being cut this fall than in the several preceding years, Grover Conzet, state forester, reports, with 1,500,000 scheduled to be transported southward to take their places in the yuletide celebrations. Normally about 1,250,000 are taken.

Manufacturers Meet Wednesday

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—America's manufacturers will ask for continuation of Section 7A, the collective bargaining clause of the recovery act, beyond the expiration of the act in June, 1935, adding a request for "clarifying definitions."

They will also express their readiness to approve "a sound solution" of the proposal which President Roosevelt recently announced as the next on his list, unemployment insurance.

That is the extent to which the national association of manufacturers is ready to "go along" with the New Deal in its convention which will open here Wednesday.

THIRTY-FOUR ARE REPORTED DEAD IN AUSTRALIAN STORM

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Thirty-four were dead and six thousand homeless today in the wake of floods and gales that tore across Victoria State, a Central dispatch from Melbourne said.

Millions of dollars' damage was reported from around Melbourne. There was a huge loss in cattle and sheep.

UNION TOWNSHIP SEWER JOB NOW UP TO DISTRICT

Property owners of Union township's No. 2 sewer district, extending along State street extension and its few connecting streets, will be contacted within a short time by a township committee whose duty it will be to determine whether the owners will obligate themselves to buy materials necessary for a new sewer job which the RWD may do.

H. W. Sontum, Paul Pattison and Robert Thompson, members of the committee, will sound out the property owners as to whether they will share the $3,500 aggregate cost for materials.

Chairman Sontum, hopeful that under the RWD the township can take advantage of the project, said the cost to each owner will be about 50 cents per running foot.

The sewer would be laid along both sides of State street extension and down several streets running off of it. The new project would constitute another major RWD project for the township.

Farmers Say State May Grow All Its Own Christmas Trees

Forests And Waters Department Begins Movement For Planting Of Spruce

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—Farmers in Lehigh, Northampton, Carbon, and Monroe Counties believe that Pennsylvania may soon be growing all its own Christmas trees. They say that Norway and white spruce trees will grow on soil suitable for farming and can be raised to provide successive crops year after year.

The state department of forests and waters has started a movement to encourage the growing of such trees on a large scale in the state.

Approximately 500 carloads of spruce trees are imported into Pennsylvania each year from Canada and New England for Christmas decorations, according to one county farm agent, who says that these trees can be grown in virtually all parts of this state.

Christmas trees, from six to nine feet tall, can be grown most satisfactorily on moist and fairly fertile lands, and will grow fastest if cultivated the first few years. Trees planted four by four feet apart will have sufficient space to develop in their natural form. In eight years, these spruce trees will be from five to eight feet in height, the farm agent points out in giving directions.

Department instructions suggest that if 250 trees an acre are cut each year, and these open spaces are again planted the next spring, it should be possible to remove that number of trees from the planted area each year. These Christmas trees will be worth from 25 to 50 cents each in adjacent communities.

No Seasonal Slack Noted

ST. PAUL, Dec. 3.—There may be a seasonal slack in some industries at this time of year, but in northern Minnesota there is great activity—harvesting Christmas trees.

More trees are being cut this fall than in the several preceding years. Grover Conzett, state forester, reports, with 1,500,000 scheduled to be transported southward to take their places in the yuletide celebrations. Normally about 1,250,000 are taken.

UNION TOWNSHIP SEWER JOB NOW UP TO DISTRICT

Property owners of Union township's No. 2 sewer district, extending along State street extension and its few connecting streets, will be contacted within a short time by a township committee whose duty it will be to determine whether the owners will obligate themselves to buy materials necessary for a new sewer job which the RWD may do.

H. W. Sontum, Paul Pattison and Robert Thompson, members of the committee, will sound out the property owners as to whether they will share the $3,500 aggregate cost for materials.

Chairman Sontum, hopeful that under the RWD the township can take advantage of the project, said the cost to each owner will be about 50 cents per running foot.

The sewer would be laid along both sides of State street extension and down several streets running off of it. The new project would constitute another major RWD project for the township.

Mine Rescue Headquarters To Be Opened

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—Focusing the mine safety service of the country in Pittsburgh, new headquarters for the nation's mine rescue cars will be opened here this week, it was announced today.

The headquarters, located in the P. S. Bureau of Mines building, were constructed at a cost of $100,000. A new car barn will house the government's rescue trains, while the upper floor will be devoted to a laboratory and supply room.

Six of the 10 rescue cars now in operation are to be housed in the new barn. Four emergency cars will be kept in readiness for any major mine disaster.

According to J. J. Forbes, supervising engineer of the bureau, this work is largely responsible for lowering the fatal accident rate by 50 percent in mines since 1910.

Last year only one major mine disaster was reported, with a loss of seven lives. During the current year there have been two major disasters with 22 fatalities. In Pennsylvania, but one major mine catastrophe has occurred in the last six years.

In spite of the decrease in mine accidents, the four emergency cars will be constantly prepared with stretchers, chemical, oxygen inhalers, fire extinguishers, emergency telephone reels and all rescue apparatus. They will supplement the fleet of rescue trucks maintained by all sub-stations of the bureau.

Farmers Say State May Grow All Its Own Christmas Trees

Forests And Waters Department Begins Movement For Planting Of Spruce

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—Farmers in Lehigh, Northampton, Carbon, and Monroe counties believe that Pennsylvania may soon be growing all its own Christmas trees. UNION TOWNSHIP SEWER JOB NOW UP TO DISTRICT

Property owners of Union township's No. 2 sewer district, extending along State street extension and its few connecting streets, will be contacted within a short time by a township committee whose duty it will be to determine whether the owners will obligate themselves to buy materials necessary for a new sewer job which the RWD may do.

H. W. Sontum, Paul Pattison and Robert Thompson, members of the committee, will sound out the property owners as to whether they will share the $3,500 aggregate cost for materials.

Chairman Sontum, hopeful that under the RWD the township can take advantage of the project, said the cost to each owner will be about 50 cents per running foot.

The sewer would be laid along both sides of State street extension and down several streets running off of it. The new project would constitute another major RWD project for the township.
